Stock of Glendale Savings Bank Taken Over; Lease Placed on Record

Confirming the absorption of the Glendale Savings bank, at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, by the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank system, reported exclusively in The Glendale Evening News on Wednesday, February 25, comes the exclusive announcement today that the stock of the local bank has been taken over by the Los Angeles institution and the lease of the property has gone on record.

This announcement is made to The Glendale Evening News through Oscar Thompson, vice-president of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, in charge of branches. W. S. Perrin, president of the Glendale Savings bank, remains in charge of the new branch, and the directorate remains unchanged, save for the addition of D. H. Smith, vice-president and manager of the Brand boulevard branch, Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, and Julius Kranz, a director of this branch.

The Glendale Savings bank was taken over by a subsidiary company of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank, it was announced. Plans for a building on the corner, to be one of the largest structures in the city, have not yet been matured to a point where an announcement can be made, but it is believed that such a building will be erected when present leases expire, and that it will be at least seven stories high.

This gives the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, in effect, three branches in Glendale. The other two branches are: Brand boulevard branch, D. H. Smith, vice-president and manager, and Glendale avenue branch, Herman Nelson, vice-president and manager. At the last call the Brand boulevard branch carried total deposits of $2,425,190.10, while the Glendale avenue branch carried total deposits of $1,582,-179.35.

These deposits, combined and added to the deposits of $887,-811 held by the Glendale Savings bank at the last call, bring the total deposits of these three branches to nearly $5,000,000.

At the last call the Glendale Savings bank showed deposits totaling $887,811. It carries no commercial department but has long been known as one of the strongest institutions in the city. The officers of the Glendale Savings bank are: W. S. Perrin, president; C. E. Wetmore, vice-president; F. L. Thompson, vice-president; H. E. Francy, cashier; H. J. Wetmore, assistant cashier; A. G. Cornwell, assistant secretary. The members of the board of directors are: D. H. Smith and Julius Kranz, the new men put in by the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank; and Dr. A. W. Teel, F. L. Thompson, David Francy, A. G. Cornwell, H. E. Francy and W. S. Perrin.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN FAVOR OF WOMAN

Award Mrs. Dennistoun Sum Of $25,000 But She May Not Collect

LONDON, March 24.—The jury in the action of Mrs. Dorothy Dennistoun against her former husband, Colonel Ian Dennistoun, today awarded Mrs. Dennistoun damages of $25,000 in returning a verdict in her favor.

The jury also found that Mrs. Dennistoun had loaned Colonel Dennistoun approximately $6,000. This was the sum asked for by Mrs. Dennistoun.

In addition, the jury held that Colonel Dennistoun had agreed to assist in the support of Mrs. Dennistoun to the extent that he was able when she was not in a position to provide for herself.

Mrs. Dennistoun had sued Colonel Dennistoun for $6,000, money alleged to have been advanced by her to pay his club and other expenses prior to the time he divorced her and married Lady Carnarvon, widow of the famous English explorer and discoverer of the tomb of King Tut.

The divorce and financial agreement were not collusive, the jury decided.

The decision was particularly unfavorable to Mrs. Dennistoun, in the opinion of legal experts. They based this opinion on the jury's findings that Colonel Dennistoun agreed to help support Mrs. Dennistoun "to the extent he was able, exclusive of Lady Carnarvon's means." Such a decision, legal experts contended, practically precluded the possibility of Mrs. Dennistoun collecting the money award.

The court will hear legal arguments before handing down a final verdict based on the jury's findings.

The jury decided that Colonel Dennistoun agreed to help support Mrs. Dennistoun. Judge McCardie questioned this decision.

"In your view, was the arrangement to be irrespective of whether she was the wife or mistress of a rich man?" the court asked.

"No," replied the foreman. "We don't mean he should support her in that case."

Society Attends

The jury held that the consideration for the financial agreement was that Mrs. Dennistoun

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Captain Seth Strelinger of the California Boxing commission, declared here today the California commission would take no cognizance of the ruling of the New York Boxing commission's ruling that Dempsey be barred from boxing in New York because he would not accept the challenge of Harry Wills.

"In my estimation," Strelinger said, "I think Dempsey can beat any two men that are after his title in one night."

Efforts were made to reach Dempsey, but they proved unavailing.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, was declared ineligible to engage in any boxing bouts in this state by the New York state athletic commission at its meeting today. This action was taken because of the failure of Dempsey to accept the challenge of Harry Wills, negro challenger.

The suspension, the commission said, was indefinite, or until such time that Dempsey agrees to meet Wills.

Tommy Gibbons has also filed a challenge to Dempsey with the commission, but the defi of Wills was given precedence because it was filed a week earlier.

Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, who is in the city, was not present at the meeting.

"Dempsey is placed upon the ineligible list for his failure to comply with the law governing boxing champions in the state of New York."

The other statement follows:

"The New York State Athletic commission forbids any licensed club, matchmaker or any official connected with a licensed club in this state from entering into a contract or having any negotiations for a match with any boxer suspended or on the ineligible list of the New York State Athletic commission."

HOSTILE FACTIONS WAIT GAS BATTLE

Bitter Rivalry Splits Solons At Capitol As 3-Cent Bill Comes Up

SACRAMENTO, March 24.—Rivaling in intensity of feeling the famous King tax bill fight of four years ago, when the corporation tax rate was increased after one of the bitterest legislative wars in the history of the state, the impending battle between sponsors of the 3-cent gasoline tax and the oil companies has split the Legislature into two hostile camps, each awaiting the first test of strength before the Senate committee on revenue and taxation tomorrow night.

The mines and mining committee of the lower house today sent to the Legislature with a "do pass" recommendation A. B. 470, providing for the creation of a state department of mines and minerals.

Both sides today claimed control of the committee where the first tilt will be waged.

Leading the opposition to the proposed increase in the gas tax are three members of the committee which will be called upon tomorrow to pass on the bill—Senators Fellom and Murphy of San Francisco and Sharkey of Martinez.

HIGH MARK IN PURCHASE OF BOULEVARD PROPERTY

W. F. Hemenway Interest In Realty Is Sold At Rate Of $2800 Front Foot

A new high level in the price of Brand boulevard frontage is established with the purchase by J. B. Doner of the W. F. Hemenway interest in the property at 108-110 South Brand boulevard, the consideration being at the rate of $2800 per front foot.

The property fronts 50 feet on the boulevard and runs back 110 feet to a 15-foot alley. It lies just south of the corner property occupied by Roberts & Echols, druggists, and is separated from this block by a 15-foot alley.

The property is now held by J. B. Doner and H. S. Burn. At the front-foot rate paid by Mr. Doner in taking over Mr. Hemenway's interest, this makes the property valued at $140,000.

Mr. Doner confirmed the sale this morning, stating that when the present leases expire, April 1, 1927, it is planned to erect a large structure on the premises, several stories high. Present leases are held by the Nadine Millinery store and the Silk store, at 108 South Brand boulevard, and by the Ideal Shoe Co. at 110 South Brand boulevard.

J. A. Endicott, who has a 99-year lease on the next 25 feet south, sub-leased to William H. Sullivan, realtor, 112 South Brand boulevard, and to Niblo & Brown's Coffee shop, 112½ South Brand boulevard, stated that he has talked with Mr. Doner and Mr. Burn of joining with them in the erection of a building to occupy the combined 75 feet of boulevard frontage, as his sub-leases expire at approximately the same time their leases expire.

The rate of $2800 a front foot paid by Mr. Doner in purchasing Mr. Hemenway's interest in this property indicates the healthy rise of Brand boulevard values, according to Mr. Endicott, who is regarded as one of the best informed real estate men in Glendale on business property.

He predicts that other pending boulevard deals will raise the values of Brand boulevard frontage to over $3000 a front foot within the next few weeks.

SPANISH FIESTA PLANS REVISED

HISTORICAL EVENT MAY LAST FOUR DAYS

Executive Committee Members Discuss Proposed Celebration at Meeting; Will Refer to Advisory Body

Revised plans for the Spanish fiesta to be held in Glendale during September were worked out by the executive committee at a meeting last night, calling for a four-day celebration commencing Wednesday, September 9, and lasting until Saturday night, September 12.

The plan as revised last night will be submitted to the advisory committee headed by D. H. Smith for approval. Briefly the events as now planned will be:

WEDNESDAY — Historical parade in the morning in which all cities of Southern California will be invited to participate. Each city will be asked to depict in its entry some historical event of importance either to the community making the entry or to Southern California generally. At night the first performance of the historical pageant-play will be given in a natural setting somewhere in the hills adjacent to Glendale.

THURSDAY—Afternoon and night performances of the historical play.

FRIDAY—Aviation rodeo in the afternoon to be staged under the direction of Dr. T. C. Young and Glendale aviators. Fourth performance of play at night.

SATURDAY—San Fernando Valley industrial parade and exhibit in the morning. Wild west rodeo during the afternoon. Last performance of historical pageant-play at night. Also street dancing and carnival attractions in the downtown district during the last night, to end at a late hour in a blaze of light and glory.

This schedule of events, covering the most of four days and nights, was worked out after several hours of discussion and is believed to embody the ideas given by John Steven McGroarty, who urged that a large part of the expense be eliminated in order to assure the success of the fiesta. By inviting outside communities to assist in staging the historical parade, only a portion of the cost of this expensive feature will have to be borne here.

A reproduction of the pageant-play on each day will afford a fitting spectacle with but the one first cost, it was pointed out. Other features have been designed to keep the expense within the pocketbook of Glendale and to effect the greatest possible success of the fiesta, William L. Twining, chairman of the executive committee said.

Name Committees

Committees to take charge of the various divisions of the fiesta work were not appointed last night, but will be named shortly, Mr. Twining said. The revised plan will be placed before the advisory board at an early date also, he said, so that actual work on the fiesta can be commenced as soon as possible.

Those in attendance last night when the executive committee met at the offices of the Glendale Realty board were Chairman Twining, C. J. Hatz, secretary, William L. Truitt, W. E. Hewitt, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery and J. Herbert Smith.

JAZZ GIRL IS AGAIN NEAR COLLAPSE

Girl Sobs While Attorneys Ask Questions of Many Prospective Jurors

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The possibility that Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old matricide, may not be able to go through with her trial, now in its second day, loomed today when for the second time she broke down during the process of selecting a jury.

During the interrogation of Mrs. Thomas F. Hicks as a prospective juror, the girl began to sob quietly and the deputy sheriff, Mrs. Gussie Kennedy, in whose custody she is, vainly endeavored to comfort her. However, Dorothy declined offers of a recess, shaking her shoulders in an emphatic no.

Judge Louderback, however, noticing Dorothy's condition, ordered a ten minute recess to enable the girl to regain her composure.

Mrs. Hicks had just been asked:

"Would your sex and motherhood take you into this case with a prejudice against the defendant?"

She replied it would not, and further said that she would be willing to have some one near and dear to her tried by twelve mothers in the same frame of mind as herself.

Mrs. Hicks was accepted as the seventh tentative juror.

This exhausted the original panel of twelve that had been called into the box and five new names were drawn from the jury box.

Warning By Judge

A threat to clear the courtroom of all spectators, featured the opening session of the second day of the case.

A gust of laughter swept the room when a prospective juror under examination declared he would find the young defendant guilty even if no evidence of any kind were presented.

Judge Louderback sternly announced that any repetition of "such a demonstration" would result in the clearing the courtroom of all spectators.

Martin Brown, the juror under examination, was challenged for cause by the defense, and the challenge allowed by Judge Louderback. Dorothy came into the court still weak from her experience yesterday and wore a long heavy black coat with a bedraggled fur collar to protect her from the drafts in the court room which yesterday made her chilly.

Other court business held up the opening of the case today and slow progress was made toward completion of the jury.

Girl Not to Testify

The story of the slaying of her mother will not come from the lips of the 16-year-old matricide, it was learned today. Her counsel have decided to keep her from the stand and will battle against the introduction of her confession by the state.

The defense will endeavor to force the state to present a circumstantial case. There were no witnesses to the shooting of Annie Ellingson, mother of the girl. The state will reconstruct through police testimony as far as possible the shooting in the little Fourth avenue cottage, the flight of the girl, her betrayal by one of her male friends, her arrest and then endeavor to place in evidence against her the confession Dorothy made to police officers.

Efforts to secure a jury struck a snag when those under examination declared they had opinions on the case which they could not set aside. Two were excused for this cause.

Paul E. Doniville was under cross examination at noon as court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon, with fair prospects that he might be selected as the eighth tentative juror.

Chief Fraser Starts War On Punchboards

War has been declared on punchboards by Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department, who asserts that they are gambling devices and as such are against the law. Last night he visited a number of local places of business where these boards were operating and called them in. Today he issued a general warning to merchants of the city that operation of these boards is illegal and arrests will follow if they are not withdrawn.

LEAGUE HEARS LECTURE ON STATE TAX

C. A. Rudel Tells Municipal Club Members Condition Of Income Source

"California's tax laws are no worse than those of other states and better than those of many.

"The system used by the Los Angeles county assessor's office is as scientific and accurate as humanly possible and compares favorably with systems used elsewhere.

"There is a great need for business men who know the provisions of the city charter and the functionings of municipal government on the city council of any city.

"School taxes have been the cause for great increases in taxes in Glendale. We must have education, but we must not allow sentiment to overpower our reason in this matter. We must beware of plunging this and future generations into debt under the false cloak of education."

These were high points in the address of C. A. Rudel, tax expert for the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, before members of the Glendale Municipal league last night.

Mr. Rudel said that no different system was used last year in assessing Glendale property than was used elsewhere in the county, and that there was no discrimination shown here. He defied those who claim their assessments were out of reason by declaring that the law requires the assessed valuation to be placed at 50 per cent of the actual property value. He challenged anyone to accept twice the amount on his property by the assessor as a just price. Glendale is not taxed higher than any other city, taking into comparison improvements and benefits here, he said in answer to questions on this point.

School Tax Attacked

Dr. T. R. Croswell attacked the school tax and asked what the term "other" expense referred to in the report of school expenditures recently issued by the county. He said that all expenditures of the schools are divided into two groups, salaries and "other" expenses. There has been no raise in the salaries, the report shows, Dr. Croswell said, but the "other" expenses jumped tremendously.

Constitution and by-laws of the league were adopted at the meeting last night, held at the Wilson Intermediate school. Members of the executive committee were named following this procedure. They will be G. H. Wende, E. E. Fram, R. Streit, J. R. Grey, Dr. T. R. Croswell, C. A. Rudel, W. A. Goss, Bert P. Woodard, Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, L. H. Wilson, George B. Woodbery, R. S. Person, Mrs. E. B. Moore, C. S. Dunning, H. M. Butts. H. M. Adams, president, presided at the meeting.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, March 24.—A runaway romance, which started in Seattle and reached its climax in a honeymoon here Sunday, came to an abrupt termination today, when Irene Johnson, 14-year-old bride of Percy Leroy Johnson, 21, returned home with her mother, while on the same train the unhappy bridegroom went back with police escort to face several charges of worthless check frauds.

SHEPHERD DUE FOR JAIL OR FREEDOM

Murderer's Row Or Liberty Is Expected Today For Accused Slayer

CHICAGO, March 24.—Freedom on bonds by tonight or a cell in murderers' row for the indefinite period pending his trial on charges of murder for the death of William Nelson McClintock.

This was the program for William D. Shepherd today as his counsel began their closing plea for his release with the opening of the third day of the hearing of his motion for bail.

All witnesses have been heard, counsel for both sides announced today, and there remains now only the legal tilt between the opposing attorneys.

Shepherd's Plea

Attorney William S. Stewart, chief of Shepherd's counsel, has not changed his plan of battle. He will base his argument for Shepherd's release on the contentions that the majority of the state's witnesses against his client have a personal interest in the matter; that Dr. Charles C. Faiman, star state defendant and co-defendant of Shepherd, has an unsavory reputation and past; indictment against Shepherd is faulty in that it illegally defines typhoid germs as a poison and that Shepherd is dangerously ill with diabetes—a disease which, Stewart will hold, may cause his death if he is confined in jail.

Courtroom Crowded

Before a courtroom crowded to capacity, and through which intermittently there came the sounds of shuffling feet as a surging mob, held in check by special officers, jostled and milled about the outside, Attorney Stewart, chief of defense counsel, today made the final plea for liberty for Shepherd.

Stewart branded the testimony of Faiman as worthless in that it came from a confessed accomplice, and declared that it was from this unstable material that the state had fashioned its "circumstantial" web about Shepherd.

"There is not even one iota of evidence to show that McClintock's death was from other than natural causes," he shouted. "No one has even attempted to say that they saw the defendant inoculate this boy.

"And yet the state asks that this man be held as for a capital crime—a crime in which the proof must be evident and the presumption great—a crime proved beyond reasonable doubt."

Stewart had not concluded when the afternqon recess was taken.

Stewart asserted that neither Dr. Charles C. Faiman, the state's star witness and co-defendant of Shepherd, nor anyone else had attempted to say that they had actually seen Shepherd administer any germs, and declared that the alleged fact that Shepherd had inoculated McClintock had been arrived at merely by speculation.

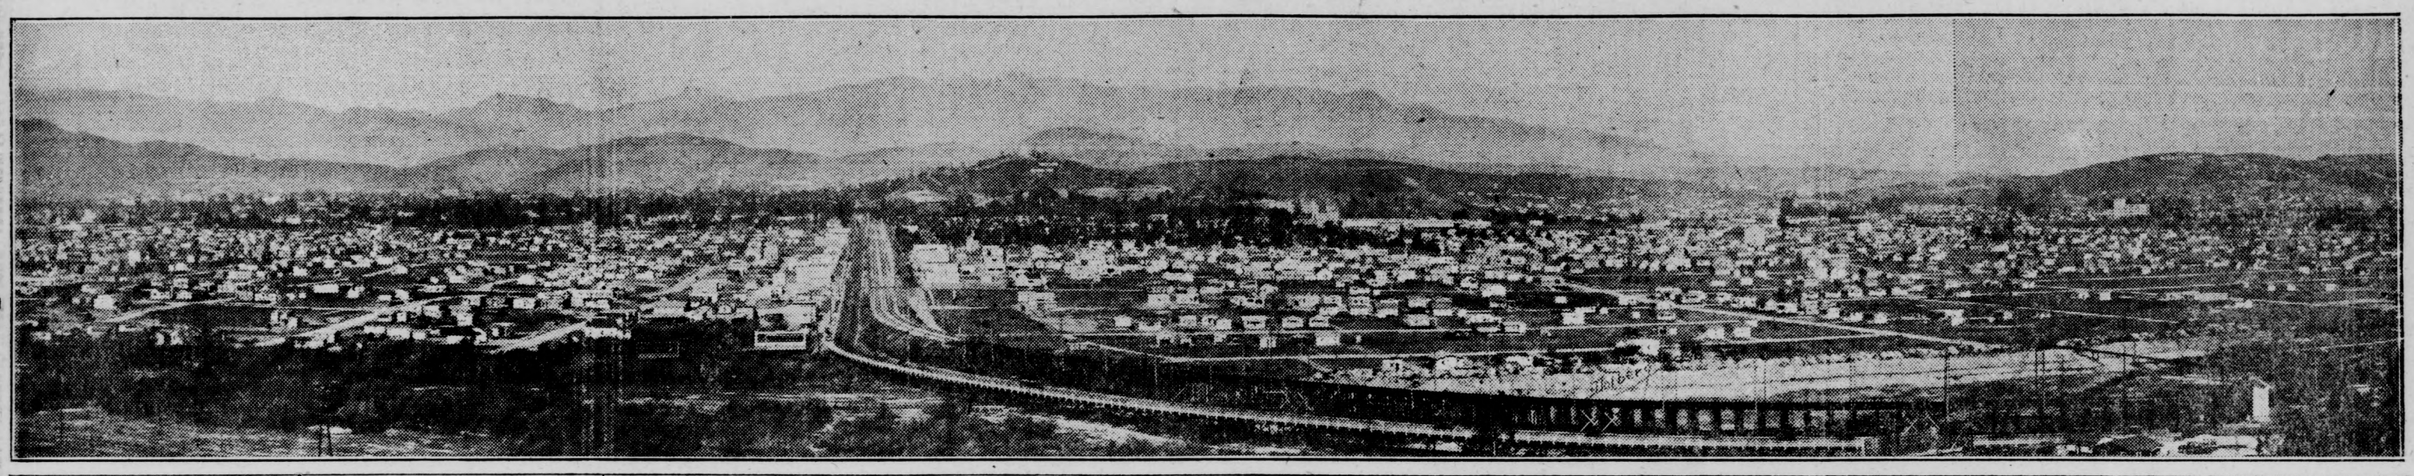
PHENOMENAL GROWTH IS SEEN IN ATWATER PARK

Panoramic View of Atwater District Shows Wonderful View of Prosperous Community

Here is a panoramic view of the Atwater district south of Glendale. The district boasts a population of 7500 persons, has more than 125 business houses, half a dozen light industrial plants, churches, schools and every convenience of community life. By June 1 all streets, sidewalks and a complete sewer system will be installed. The district has grown from a Japanese flower garden with but a few scattered families to its present proportions within a period of four years, meriting the distinction of being one of the fastest progressing communities in Los Angeles county. Immediately adjoining Glendale, the Atwater district is a pleasing neighbor. This picture is from a photograph taken by Dolberg Studios. Glendale is proud to notice the growth of the Atwater district and to know that the attractive community is in a prosperous condition and making plans for many civic improvements.



SCOUTMASTER STUDY CLUB IS FORMED

Sixty-eight representative business and professional men of Glendale attended last night's opening session of the Scoutmasters' training course, at Harvard High school. Richardson D. White, head of the training department of Verdugo Hills council, presided. E. B. DeGroot, Scout executive of Los Angeles, spoke.

Preceding the program Roy A. Kent, president of the council, was host at dinner in the school cafeteria. R. Ernest Tucker, with Mrs. Gertrude C. Erb at the piano, led community singing. Waiters at the dinner were Scouts in charge of Theron Ramey, senior patrol leader of Troop 12.

Talks were given by Mr. Kent, William Hunter, chairman of Glendale district, and Major C. L. Wyman. Later Harvey R. Cheesman, Scout executive, organized the men into patrols with leaders. Patrol drills, competitive games and Scout activities followed.

Tonight tenderfoot requirements will be given and an investiture ceremony held. Other sessions will be Thursday night at Harvard High school, and Saturday afternoon and night in Griffith park.

Theatre Chief Learns About Filipino Talk

If anyone should see Manager William A. Howe of the Glendale theatre wandering about his playhouse with prepossessed air and serious mein, mumbling to himself, there should be no undue alarm. He is merely trying to learn some of the Filipino phrases of Lopez' "Castillian Serenaders," who are playing in conjunction with the presentation of "Charlie's Aunt."

So many patrons asked him about the strange exclamations of Vincent Castello and his troupe, that Mr. Howe was finally obliged to go back stage and find out.

"Oh, what we say? That is only our language for "Make it snappy!" When we get much the excite we say 'Capit bata!' He means 'Hot stuff!' And 'Hola puga, puga!' He means 'Keep it up!'"

SCOUT PATROL IN OUTDOORS STUDY

Work Is Demonstrated By Cheesman To Leaders At Griffith Park

Harvey R. Cheesman, local Scout executive, and thirty-five patrol leaders spent Saturday in Griffith park, engaged in Scout activity. Boys were organized into model patrols and selected leaders. Patrol organization and competitive games followed. Games included nature study, the contestants being sent out to secure wild flowers and shrubs. The patrol securing the flowers and naming them correctly won the prize. Mr. Cheesman talked on construction of a camp and fireplace, and making of provision list. His talk was followed by the boys carrying out instructions.

Tracking was taken up in the afternoon. A coyote's track was found and followed. Plaster casts of the foot prints were taken and casts used for demonstration work in wet sand. A large plot of sand was cleared and "puzzles in the sand" were worked. While other patrols were absent, one patrol would make markings on the sand and upon return the other patrol members would study the tracks on the sand and solve the puzzle. Knot tying and also base ball was played.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT IN LAST FOUR YEARS

District Expands From Japanese Flower Garden to Community Now Having Population of 7,500 Persons

An era of growth that is scarcely short of phenomenal, a growth admittedly unsurpassed by any other community in Southern California, yet a growth that is only a beginning of what is to be, has marked the past four years in the district southwest of Glendale, commonly termed Atwater Park. From a Japanese flower garden with but a half dozen scattered dwellings to mark the site in 1922, the section has grown to a thriving community of 7500 population, boasting more than 125 business institutions and occupying a place in the limelight of development of greater Los Angeles.

Although the actual history of the district dates back to 1912 when the first subdivision was placed on the market, into the last four years must be crowded the story of Atwater Park's growth from a farming community to the prosperous locality of today. The original Atwater Park tract, bounded by the Southern Pacific tracks, Larga avenue, Glendale boulevard and Silverlake boulevard, was subdivided by the Guy M. Rush Co. in 1912. In the same year, the Angelus Park subdivision, across the boulevard and bounded by the Southern Pacific tracks, Brunswick avenue, and Glendale and Los Feliz boulevards, was also offered for sale by the Rigali & Vesselich Co.

Later, in 1918 Glendale boulevard was pushed through to the river, the bridge built across that stream and other steps forward were taken, but it was not until the subdivision of Glenhurst Terrace, the Arthur M. Gilman tract, in February, 1921, that actual growth commenced. Glenhurst consisted of twenty-five acres from Larga avenue to Glenhurst avenue and from Glendale boulevard to Tyburn street. Lots were placed on the market at a low price and were quickly sold out and home building commenced.

Other Tracts Opened

At the same time Glendale Manor, running from Silverlake boulevard to Kerr street and from the Southern Pacific tracks to Atwater avenue was subdivided by Dickinson & Gillespie. Next came Boulevard Manor, running from Edenhurst avenue to the Los Angeles river and from Glendale to Los Feliz boulevards, subdivided a year later. In the same year Hollydale Gardens was placed on the market. The last of the subdivisions, Walnut Grove, was sponsored in 1922 by Rigali & Vesselich.

Only five houses existed in the tract between Glendale and Los Feliz boulevards when 1921 opened. A few hundred people composed the entire population of the territory from Silverlake to Los Feliz boulevards.

Today the population of the same area is conservatively estimated at 7500 persons. There are more than 2500 residences, high class and desirable homes, in the district. One hundred dwellings are now actually under construction. More than 125 business houses serve the wants of the community, doing a flourishing trade from their locations along Glendale and Los Feliz boulevards. There are half a dozen light industrial plants in the district furnishing employment for more than 300 persons in addition to the Tropico Potteries, within the boundaries of the community, an institution employing approximately 700 men all the year around.

Schools and Churches

Atwater's grammar school, now taxed to almost twice its normal capacity with an enrollment of 850 students, will shortly be enlarged to twice its present size and a spacious auditorium added at an expenditure of over $80,000. Plans for a second school, to be located in the northwest section of the tract are now being advocated.

Atwater Park boasts a church membership of more than 400 families. The Atwater Park Baptist church, Tyburn street and Perlita avenue, has a membership of approximately 100. Sunday school attendance averages about 150 persons. Rev. M. Grant Nelson is pastor of the church. The Neighborhood Christian church is located on Edenhurst avenue. Rev. J. W. Utter is pastor. The membership is about 100.

Plans for a new Catholic church in the district are well under way. Rev. Father Murphy has already taken up his residence in the community and an option on a church site has been secured. There are over 200 Catholic families in the Atwater section.

Two Arteries

Atwater Park is admirably located at the very focal point for traffic running in all directions to and from Los Angeles. As a result, it's two main arteries, Glendale boulevard and Los Feliz road have become important links in the highway system of Southern California. Recent checks made by the Automobile club place the number of cars passing over Los Feliz road at 40,000 daily, and over Glendale boulevard at more than 20,000 daily.

Contemplated new highways and bridges across the Los Angeles river will materially effect Atwater Park, adding greater transportation facilities than at present and placing the district in even a more strategic position in this regard than now. Riverside drive, and the truck boulevard, leading up the river into the San Fernando valley; Hyperian boulevard, connecting Glendale boulevard with Santa Monica boulevard and the beach cities; opening and widening of Fletcher drive and the Fletcher drive bridge; paving of Silverlake boulevard and the double concrete span over the river at Glendale boulevard, are all either under way or contemplated highway improvements.

Transportation facilities in Atwater are the best. A twenty-minute schedule over the Pacific Electric is maintained between the district and down-town Los Angeles. Within the past week a notice of a reduction in the fares to Los Angeles has been given by the railway company. A still greater reduction is being advocated. The Pasadena-Hollywood-Ocean Park motor bus line passes along Los Feliz road, the San Fernando-Los Angeles busses pass along San Fernando road, serving the Atwater district also. The Glendale-Montrose line, running from Glendale Junction to the foothills, is within easy reach.

Improvement Body

Matters of community interest and development have for the past few years been satisfactorily handled through the Atwater Community Improvement association. Arthur M. Gilman, realty subdivider and pioneer of the district, is president of the association. J. J. Rummage is vice-president and P. E. Lipscomb, secretary-treasurer. The association holds membership meetings every two weeks in the auditoriums of the two

TIRED OF LIFE GIRL TRIES SUICIDE

Burbank Woman Will Live After Shooting Self At Sister's Home

Miss Margaret Cunningham, 23-year-old Burbank girl who shot herself Sunday afternoon "to escape from the boredom of life," will live, it was announced today from the Burbank hospital, where she lies with a bullet imbedded near her heart.

The girl shot herself at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Stein, 133 Central avenue, according to Chief John H. Long of the Burbank police department, who says that she was one of the popular girls in the city, noted for her beauty and charm.

Excusing herself late Sunday afternoon from the guests who filled her sister's house, Miss Cunninham went to her room, shut the door and fired a shot from a .25 caliber pistol into her side.

"Life was uninteresting, a thing from which I sought escape," she told Chief Long as she lay on her cot at the hospital, hovering between life and death.

Yale Club Scholarship Applications Are Due

Opportunities for earning the balance of expenses at Yale, if necessary, are also arranged. The award is made on the basis of character, leadership in student activities in high school, scholarship record in high school and financial need. In point of money this is one of the largest scholarships offered to young men in Southern California. Six young men from Southern California are now at Yale as recipients of this scholarship. Applications should be made to R. E. Seiler, Chairman of the Yale Scholarship Committee, 515 North Kenmore Avenue, Los Angeles, or to Samuel B. Colburn, 1304 East Harvard St., Glendale.

BOWL DIRECTORS ARE ANNOUNCED

Seven Of Country's Famous Conductors Will Appear On Hollywood Bill

A new plan has been adopted for the Hollywood Bowl concert. Instead of having one conductor, several will lead at the Bowl this summer. They are: Walter Damrosch, of the New York Symphony; Fritz Reiner, of the Cincinnati Symphony; Rudolph Ganz, of the St. Louis Symphony; Walter Henry Rothwell, Los Angeles Philharmonic; Ethel Leginska, noted woman conductor, composer and pianiste; Sir Henry Wood, foremost English director, and Leopold Stokowsky, maestro of the Philadelphia Symphony.

Ten-thousand season books will be sold in Southern California at $10 each, guaranteeing from the start a fund of $100,000. Each book contains 40 tickets at a cost of 25 cents apiece. Admission to the Bowl is 50 cents, therefore only holders of tickets as represented in the books, enjoy the 25 cents' admission rate.

Publicity Guaranteed

The Los Angeles Board of Supervisors has appropriated $7,500 to advertise the Bowl concerts and the All-Year Advertising club has arranged to utilize part of their million-dollar advertising fund to give the Bowl national publicity as one of the attractive features of southern California. It has been through the appeal on national publicity largely that so many noted musical leaders have been induced to come to Hollywood Bowl.

Mrs. J. J. Carter has appointed H. S. McCormack, with offices in the Security Bank building, as chairman of the Glendale section of the Hollywood Bowl association. Mr. McCormack announces that tickets have been placed on sale with the following business places: Glendale Music Co. 118 South Brand; Glendale Phonograph Co., 109 North Brand; Van Grove, Inc., 337 North Brand!; R. REVISION FOR ZONING LAW DISCUSSED

Union Pacific Complaint Is Responsible For Move From Chamber

Revision of Glendale's zoning ordinance, allowing wholesale concerns, warehouses, light industrial plants and the like to locate in a number of districts now zoned exclusively for business, loomed today, following a meeting of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce late yesterday, when representatives of the Union Pacific railroad told the committee that business and industrial progress along their line in Glendale was being greatly and unnecessarily hampered by the present zoning ordinance.

At present Glendale is zoned for business and industries with no provision being made in other than the industrial zone for warehouses, wholesale concerns, light industrial plants and other commercial enterprsies barred from the business zones, it was pointed

DRUG USE EXAGGERATED

The Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church issues some statistics that are decidedly heartening. Propagandists against the Volstead act, professional reformers and calamity howlers have been telling us that the use of narcotics has increased alarmingly since the passage of the eighteenth amendment and that one person in every twenty is addicted to the use of drugs.

We are all inclined to be gullible when it comes to propaganda of this kind and we allow it to "soak in," although we may number many hundreds of people among our acquaintances, every one of whom we can vouch for as being free from this evil, for the "dope fiend" cannot conceal his shame.

Investigations conducted by the church show that the use of narcotics in the United States has decreased steadily since the year 1900. The report of this board declares: "Drug addiction in the United States is a great evil, but the effort of anti-prohibition propagandists to make it appear that prohibition has increased drug addiction has caused the number of drug addicts in the country to be greatly overestimated."

Investigations by the Public Health Service of the federal government lead to the same conclusions. The Health Service states that in 1900 there may have been 264,000 drug addicts in the United States and "the evidence seems to show that a maximum estimate for the number of addicts in the United States at the present time would be 150,000.

Of course 150,000 people in the United States addicted to the use of narcotics is far too many, but our shame is not so great as we have been led to believe.

HIT-AND-RUN DRIVERS

In the campaign for greater safety on the highways and streets one of the most difficult problems is the driver who hits and runs. He is the greatest menace of the road because he is either reckless or intoxicated and obviously irresponsible.

Some progress is being made in precautionary measures to prevent automobile accidents, but this super-coward is by nature not amenable to any law or regulation. The only possible way to apprehend him is to get his number, and too often the only witnesses of the accident are lying dead or injured on the pavement.

It is almost impossible to find the fellow who steps on the gas and makes his escape after he has committed assault or manslaughter with an automobile as a weapon. The only way to reduce the number of hit-and-run drivers is to use greater discrimination in issuing drivers' licenses and in meting out the severest possible penalty when they are caught. A Monrovia man ran down and killed two women in Pasadena a year or two ago. He sped away, leaving his victims dying on the street. He was finally apprehended, brought to trial and acquitted. His punishment will not deter other cowards from following his example. Only a few weeks go a man killed a small child on the streets of Los Angeles and did not stop.

Hit-and-run drivers are murderers in a double sense, for there is always a possibility that immediate attention may save the life of one who is injured in this way, and there is the same possibility that lack of attention will cause a death. But the life or death of a fellow being are not so important to this scoundrel as the saving of his own cowardly hide.

FAVORS INTENSIVE ADVERTISING

W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe railroad, points out that California must face the fact that Florida is in the field to contest our hitherto undisputed right to be called the recreation center of the nation, and he urges that all California cities, in their advertising, stress the point that this is the only all-year recreation state in the union, since this is a distinction of which Florida cannot boast.

"California must watch her step," says Mr. Black, "and it is up to every organization, commercial and civic, to join with the railroads in fostering attractions for tourists and in advertising the advantages and possibilities of this state throughout the east.

"Florida this year has attracted large travel and business, and that state is setting in about where California began twenty-five years ago; but, mark my word, she is a competitor now, and the people down there are alive to the situation and are making large investments in hotels and increased facilities for every form of sport and amusement.

"However, California is the only all-year resort country on the globe and it is the business of the organizations to help keep the state properly and everlastingly before the people you wish to attract here."

IT WAS A MISTAKE

The Hollywood beauty specialist who is being forced to defend herself on a charge of manslaughter on account of the death of a patient upon whom she was performing a face-peeling operation is being soundly condemned, and rightly so. Such operations are dangerous and unnecessary and those who go into that kind of business must realize the risk they are taking. It is difficult, also, to feel the proper amount of sympathy for the woman who passed out so suddenly on the operating table. When a woman risks her life to make herself look a few years younger she is not entitled to a great deal of consideration. The tragedy was so uncalled for.

But it might have turned out all right. This operator had performed scores of such operations which were successful—at least her subjects did not die. It was a mistake.

Which calls to mind the sad fate of Sam Dreben, gallant soldier and daring adventurer. He sought medical aid in good faith, not to improve his appearance, but to restore his health and strength. He is dead. It was a mistake.

We believe the beauty doctor is entitled to the same consideration as the person who is responsible for the death of Sam Dreben. In the first case the victim invited disaster. The soldier is not open to such criticism.

The pessimist thinks only of the present and cusses the rain; the optimist thinks of the double-header that will come later.

Nothing To Do But Fight

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Bernard Shaw aptly says that when once war breaks out the inhabitants of a country "have nothing to do but fight."

That is perfectly true.

There is no time to discuss the merits of war when once war is declared. There is no chance to express your individual opinion.

If you are going to be pacifist it must be between wars.

If you are going to express your own opinions and criticize your government it must be between wars.

No matter how it may be in time of peace, certainly in time of war it is "my country right or wrong—my country."

It is the same with peace-making agencies.

If there is anything done toward preventing war it must be done when there is no war. Then only peoples are in the proper frame of mind to receive suggestions and to argue intelligently.

When once war breaks out there is such an outburst of patriotism and the people are so inflamed by hate that they are unable to see reason.

Some years have now elapsed since the end of the Great War and an American general has just been able to acknowledge that the Germans were as brave as we were and as honest.

Cannon may be the supreme arguments of kings, but they are not the argument of democracy. Democracy argues between cannonades.

War not only disturbs and destroys peoples, it not only demolishes property and devastates fields, but it has an effect on the minds of the people and on their hearts. For a long time it disorders their thinking and they are unable to see clearly or to feel justly.

It will be a long time before conditions are such in Germany and France that French and German can think sanely each about the other.

When once war breaks out a man must go with his fellows. Then he realizes that he is no greater than the most of his countrymen and whatever his individual convictions he must adopt theirs. If he does not do it his country will make him do it.

He must either go out and shoot the enemy and get shot by him, or else stand up against the wall and himself be shot by his fellow citizens.

War is a triumph of intolerance, narrowness and intense feeling. It will have no differences of opinion. Its main argument is that of force and we must all bow to it.

Therefore if we are going to bring to bear upon different questions, reason and intelligence, it must be between wars. Once war breaks out there is no hope.

Today's Poem

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT

Oft in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound me,
Fond Memory brings the light
Of other days around me:
The smiles, the tears,
Of boyhood's years,
The words of love then spoken;
The eyes that shone,
Now dimmed and gone,
The cheerful hearts now broken.
Thus in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound me,
Sad Memory brings the light
Of other days around me.
When I remember all
The friends so linked together
I've seen around me fall,
Like leaves in wintry weather,
I feel like one
Who treads alone
Some banquet hall deserted,
Whose lights are fled,
Whose garlands dead,
And all but me departed.
Thus in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chains have bound me,
Sad Memory brings the light
Of other days around me.

Who's Who

Germany's president ad interim, Dr. Walther Simons, has taken an active part in the political life of his country for many years and up to the time of his appointment as foreign minister in 1920 held many legislative and judicial appointments. His present post is head of the Leipsic federal court, an office corresponding to that of William H. Taft, chief justice of the United States supreme court.

As foreign minister he took a leading part in the conference which led to the signing of the treaty of Versailles, he participated in the Spa conference in 1920 and was head of the German delegation to the London conference in March, 1921. Following the ultimatum of the allies after this conference he resigned his cabinet office and later became the German legal adviser on the Upper Silesian boundary commission.

Serving under the Centrist Chancellor Fehrenbach, he soon became the leading spirit in the new cabinet formed after the Red uprising in the Ruhr in May, 1920.

As foreign minister he sat with the German delegates at the meeting with the allied representatives at Spa from July 5 to 16, 1920, when under threat of occupation of the Ruhr district the Germans agreed to disarmament and reduction of the army to 150,000 men by October 1 and to 100,000 by January.

In March, 1921, he created a sensation throughout Germany and the allied countries by addressing an appeal to President Harding to act as mediator in the reparations question. The delivery of the note was timed so that in the event Harding did accept it, it would bring the United States into the reparations controversy before May 1, the date set by France to move her military forces into the Ruhr and other industrial regions of Germany.

The communication of Dr. Simons caused a tremendous outburst of feeling in Germany, and in some places almost precipitated clashes between different political factions.

Copying the actions of American politicians, Dr. Simons took a swing around Germany, visiting practically every important center in the republic, before he went to the London conference as head of the German delegation.

He resigned from the cabinet in May, 1921, following the allies' ultimatum on reparations. He later became the German legal adviser on the Upper Silesian boundary commission and was appointed president of the supreme court in 1922.

Dr. Simons was born in 1861.

Hospital patients who contributed to the fund were: F. W. Thurston, Miss M. A. Spencer, Albert Dodge, Miss Payne, Mrs. P. H. Updyke and H.Brock.

Accompanying $3 in currency, sent to The Glendale Evening News for tornado victims, was the following note: "For the cyclone sufferers, from a subscriber of The News, congratulating The News on their prompt and efficient aid in distress, both at home and elsewhere." The name of the donor is being withheld by request.

Need Is Urgent

"I wish it was $100 instead of only $1," an elderly woman said as she made her donation for the tornado relief fund at the office of The Glendale Evening News. "The News is doing good work, first as always."

The need for funds is urgent in the storm-stricken area, and persons who have not sent in their check are asked to mail it to The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand boulevard, at once, in order that the money can be forwarded to Los Angeles and sent to provide food, clothing and medicine for victims of the tornado. Checks for the fund should be plainly marked "For Tornado Relief Fund."

All sewers will be in and street work completed by June 1, according to a recent report from the city engineer's office.

Seven large commercial buildings are now nearing completion. Five of these, the Shugart building, at Garden avenue; Markowitz building also between Glenhurst and Madera avenues; Saunders building, between Glenfeliz and Edenhurst avenues, and the new plant of the Los Angeles Electrical Construction Co., are all located on Glendale boulevard. The C. H. Dodd building is at Edenhurst avenue and Glenfeliz boulevard. Anthony J. Rogelmair is erecting an ornamental tile plant on Los Feliz road.

STYLES THAT LEAD

Revision For Zoning Law Is Discussed

This is the case along Glendale avenue, where the Glendale line of his company is laid, Mr. Rauch said, and has resulted in the Union Pacific abandoning all effort to develop its Glendale trackage. Other similar instances where legitimate commercial concerns are barred unnecessarily exist throughout the city, he said. E. W. Gilliland also spoke on behalf of the Union Pacific.

Other cities have a commercial zone which permits business and other light industrial enterprises, it was pointed out, barring none excepting actual heavy industrial and manufacturing plants. A change in the Glendale ordinance to accomplish this same end may be requested by the industrial committee, it was said today by L. H. Wilson, chairman.

Following discussion of the proposed zoning change, a subcommittee on industries was appointed yesterday by Chairman Wilson to investigate further and report at a special session to be held next week. Definite action will be decided upon at that time. The proposed change would change the status of considerable property in the business and industrial area, it was pointed out, and could, in the opinion of committee members, be a great impetus to Glendale's commercial and industrial advancement. The committee will include H. C. Vandewater, T. W. Watson and Edgar Coker.

Christian Endeavorers Hold Weekly Meeting

Under the leadership of Misses Ruth Downs and Inez Eckart, an enthusiastic meeting was held by the senior intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church at its weekly session Sunday at 6 p. m. "How Can I Win Others?" was the subject. Members from the Santa Monica Presbyterian C. E. were present. A saxophone solo was rendered by Harold Jones, and a vocal duet, "Ivory Palaces," by Misses Dorothy Schenck and Alice Huston, Margaret Jones accompanying. Three new members were received, President Harold Parker and Superintendent Howard Brown officiating.

The monthly business meeting was held Saturday night at the residence of Mildred Sooy, 658 West California. The report of the nominating committee for the selection of new officers for the new half-year term beginning in April was read by James Littell, chairman, and voted on and accepted as follows: President, Alice Huston; vice-president, Spencer Jewell; secretary, Helen Gaskin; treasurer, Fred Fallis; director of boys, James Littell; director of girls, Mildred Sooy; prayer meeting director, Margaret Jones; lookout director, Harold Parker; missionary director, Wilbur Lemon; social director, Ruth Downs.

Friday, March 27, the C. E. will hold a skating party at Alhambra, the fun for the evening to be put up by the boys in view of their losing in a recent contest.

Correct Constipation

this natural way—Try it for ten days FREE

Los Angeles, Calif., July 7, 1923.
Every other night for twelve years I had to take pills for constipation. My kidneys and bladder were also in very bad condition. After the first day I discontinued pills and all medicine and after forty days my complaints have all disappeared.
I am writing this letter with the sole purpose that it may assist others to find relief. I shall continue to recommend this water and anticipate a wonderful demand for your Radium Jar.
MRS. HERMAN DUFF,
511 West 2nd St., Los Angeles.

El Paso, Texas.
About six months ago I commenced drinking Radio-Active Water and I cannot begin to tell you in this short letter all it has done for me. In that space of time I have discontinued taking cathartics. I am full of pep, have put on more weight, and it has also cleared up my skin so that lots of my friends have remarked about the change. The vitalizing effect from the drinking of this water is remarkable.

H. W. THURSTON.

Gallup, New Mexico, Nov. 22, 1924.
I use the jar in my own family and was surprised at the quick action as well as the wonderful results I have gotten in my chronic constipation.
H. G. WILLSON, M. D.

Thousands have corrected constipation by drinking radium water. It is a time-tested method.

For radio-activity in water is the secret of the remarkable results obtained by those who go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for treatment.

Radio-active water is true water. It properly cleanses the organs, freeing them from the poisons that too frequently remain in the body to lower vitality and resistance to disease.

How to Get This Water

Radio-activity can not be retained in water which is stored even for ten days to two weeks.

The vital element is lost.

But this element can be returned to the water by a simple economical, sure method. The Radium Ore Revigator is the means by which this is accomplished without changing the taste of the water.

Try for Ten Days FREE

See for yourself the effect of radium water. A number of Revigators have been installed locally for your convenience. You are cordially invited to drink the water, as much as you like. Or if you desire, fill a bottle with the water to drink at home. Not the slightest obligation.

Prove to yourself the claims that owners make for the Revigator.

REVIGATOR JARS PROMISE HEALTH

Radium Products Concern Is Local Distributor For Invention

Over 600 radium ore "Revigator" jars are in use in Glendale and vicinity, according to Roy Hemphill, general manager of the Radium Health Products Co., 506 East Colorado boulevard, exclusive distributors for this territory.

The jars are manufactured by the Radium Ore Revigator Co., a division of the Dow-Herriman Pump & Machinery Co., of San Francisco, Mr. Hemphill states. They have the property of making ordinary drinking water radio-active.

"Radio-active water is not a medicine," he says, "neither is it a drug. It is simply any water you care to put into the Revigator jar, where it becomes infused with health-giving activity, by contact with radium sulphates.

"When water is put into one of these jars it becomes charged with energy produced by radium emanation. The jars are patented and other patents are pending. In spite of the fact that radium casts off thousands of rays a second, it takes 1700 years for it to lose half its strength. For this reason the jars last several generations.

Free Samples

"To introduce these jars to the public of Glendale and prove their marvelous health-giving qualities, we will give away two quarts of radium water a day, for ten days, to everyone who will bring a retainer to our offices at 506 East Colorado boulevard.

"I was recently on a tour of our territory and found startling evidences of the popularity of Revigator jars. Over 550 people came to our Seattle office in one day, to get radium water, and over 300 came to our Portland office in one day. In each of our offices we are making the same offer of free radium water for ten days.

"Anyone who will drink this water for ten days will find new life and vitality. We have literally hundreds of testimonial letters from leading chemists and scientists throughout the country, who attest the merits of Revigator jars, and thousands of people have been made well from drinking this radio-active water."

STAGE AND SCREEN

VIEWS AND PREVIEWS—NEWS NOTES FROM STUDIOS

Compiled By Members of The Glendale Evening News Staff

'CHARLIE'S AUNT' IS AT GLENDALE

Picture From Famous Play Scores Big Hit; Fine Vaudeville Program

The film rights to "Charlie's Aunt," now showing at the Glendale theatre, cost $100,000, which is not much, declares Manager William A. Howe, when one takes into consideration that this famous play has earned upward of $3,000,000 and has made its author, Brandon Thomas, a fortune. Syd Chaplin, brother of Charlie, plays the leading role. He scored big hits in "The Galloping Fish," "Her Temporary Husband," "The Pilgrim" and "The Perfect Flapper."

"Even today, after nearly two generations of tremendous success on the stages of the world, 'Charlie's Aunt' would earn royalties of $750 a week on the Los Angeles stage," says Mr. Howe. "As far back as 1901 Scott Sidney, who directed the motion picture version, paid $2000 a week royalty for four weeks to play it at the Grand Opera House in Pittsburgh. It is no wonder that the owners for years hesitated to sell the motion picture rights.

"When the film rights were secured by Ideal Films of London, that company immediately began negotiating with the Christies of Hollywood to make the picture, because the Christie organization with its wonderful experience in making screen comedies was considered the logical producer to film this laughing classic."

Kirby and DeGage present a new Orpheum act, with a Spanish dance, "La Ferruca," in conjunction with "Charlie's Aunt" at the Glendale theatre, and another big attraction offered this week by Mr. Howe is Lopez' "Castillian Serenaders," in colorful costumes, set off by novel lighting effects.

CAREER OF REAL THRILLS BOASTED

Lewis F. Stone Shows Fine Stage Schooling Great Help In Pictures

Evidence that a fine stage schooling and a constant adherence to the highest ideals of the acting profession is not unappreciated in motion pictures is furnished by the career of Lewis S. Stone, who is seen at the Gateway Theatre the last times today in Robert Z. Leonard's production of "Cheaper to Marry" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Mr. Stone was born in Worcester, Mass., and attended public schools before going to Bernard Military academy in New York City. His military training later served in good stead when he entered the army at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. He scored his first success in New York, but later gained nation-wide fame as the leading man of the famous Belasco stock company of Los Angeles.

Back to Big Town

After six years of this, Stone returned to New York with the original company of "The Bird of Paradise." He added to his growing popularity in "The Misleading Lady," "Inside the Lines" and "Bunny," with Charlotte Walker, and in "Nancy Lee," "Where the Poppies Bloom" with Marjorie Rambeau and "The Brat."

In 1917 he entered the army again and recently received a commission as major in the United States Reserve. It was during the war that Mr. Stone made his first appearance in pictures, in a war play, "Held by the Enemy."

Of the more notable recent pictures in which he has played are "Milestones," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Scaramouche," "Why Men Leave Home," "Husbands and Lovers" and "Inez from Hollywood."

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Doris Lloyd, who is playing the lead this week in "The Ruined Lady" at the Glendale Playhouse, has a fine part in "The Lady," the motion picture which is being shown at Loew's State, Los Angeles. Miss Lloyd is supporting Miss Pauline Frederick, with whom she played in the spoken drama, "Spring Cleaning," a few weeks ago.

Dobinson Players have been at the Glendale Playhouse since the first of October, and have impressed themselves upon Glendale people as an integral part of their lives. This is proven by the fact that last week all records from the standpoint of attendance and financial returns were broken. Three of the six nights "The Ruined Lady" played to capacity houses.

Great things are expected next week of "Manna," the gripping play of faith and of the heart which opens Monday, March 30, with Miss Lloyd. The title, with the Biblical meaning, Bread From Heaven, is symbolic. One of the poor wrecks of war, a disabled soldier, has fallen into the habit of dropping from the window of a hospital quotations from the Bible written on slips of paper.

This manna falls into the lives of various people of different sorts and works a most astonishing change in them. In reality it is the bread of faith and hope which opens new vistas to them.

The play is intensely human, with a lot of regular fellows who speak in the forceful language of the day. There are smiles and tears and a sustained interest which never flags. Director Fred J. Butler regards "Manna" as the play of the year.

For Kidney Troubles Druggist Would Only Recommend Alvita

After seeing medicinal products come and go for 35 years, a prominent Pasadena druggist proves to himself the virtue of Alvita Tablets in kidney and bladder trouble. E. A. Rosenberger of 48 S. Fair Oaks, Pasadena, Cal., says:

"Before allowing myself to become enthused over ALVITA Tablets, I tried them out on myself. I can say truthfully that I am surprised at the results of the tablets. I have had a lot of trouble with my bladder and kidneys and have tried many remedies from the store. The only thing I would recommend today for prostatic and bladder troubles is the ALVITA Tablet. I got complete relief from my own trouble, which satisfies me of their merit."

Alvita is the recent scientific discovery which brings lime, iron and phosphates to you in a vegetable form. It is prepared from the deep-rooted alfalfa plant in highly concentrated tablets. Alvita has proved especially beneficial in building up weakened, run-down conditions, and in overcoming kidney, bladder and prostate trouble. No matter what you have tried, try this remedy of Nature now.

Toy Balloon Message Wins Hubby For Girl

TANY, Hungary, March 24.—Jan Musenik awaits a bride, who has come floating down to him from the clouds. While working his farm Jan picked up a toy balloon, attached to which was a letter written in German as follows:

"I send my kindest regards to the person into whose hands this toy balloon may fall. I am sixteen years of age, a spinster, well educated and efficient in household work. I wish to marry an honest young man. If he possesses some money, all the better. Please let me know whether the person who found the balloon is an eligible bachelor. Herta Essich, of Neumarket, Austria."

Jan convinced Herta that he was an eligible bachelor and now she is on the way for a honeymoon in Hungary.

He Got Acquainted with his Newspaper

"AFTER having known only the front-page headlines for the past five years, I am renewing acquaintance with my morning newspaper."

The speaker was one of a group of business men gathered at a downtown luncheon table the other day. Someone had started the old topic of traffic congestion and the increasing difficulty of driving between home and office.

"I began beating that several months ago," said the man quoted in the previous paragraph, who went on somewhat as follows:

"It was getting so that my drive downtown was making inroads on the energy I needed when I arrived at my desk. So one day I decided to put my problem of transportation up to the Pacific Electric. And ever since I've been wondering why I didn't do it long before.

"Now I get on a Red Car every morning and relax into a half-hour's undisturbed enjoyment of my newspaper. If the day is warm, I open the window and enjoy the fresh air at the same time. Otherwise I am comfortable inside where it is warm.

"A good reliable chauffeur up front gets me to town on the dot, without further thought on my part. It beats battling traffic, getting the car parked, and arriving anywhere from ten minutes early to fifteen minutes late."

* * *

Comfort of passengers is the first consideration of those responsible for the operations of The Red Cars.

There are 870 of these cars in active service, the average cost of which is $25,000 per car, many costing as much as $45,000. No finer equipment exists in the United States. Nor is any other community afforded a more dependable, more convenient, more economical means of transportation.

A Few Short Years Ago

"Western Auto" opened its first store on the Pacific Coast. From this humble beginning has grown the largest organization of its kind in the world, operating 120 stores, located in the leading cities of nine western states.

The motorists of the west were quick to realize the many advantages of buying at "Western Auto." They were quick to sense the security of doing business with a store that guarantees satisfaction. They were quick to appreciate the savings which "Western Auto" offered them. They knew that "Western Auto" carries the most complete stock of dependable Accessories, Supplies and Parts. They learned to look upon the "Western Auto" salesmen and managers as their friends—men that they could trust—men always ready and happy to serve in the full meaning of our slogan, "Saving and Service with a Smile."

Last year, five million individual sales were made in "Western Auto" stores. You will better understand the reasons for "Western Auto's" tremendous growth and the reasons why so many motorists have designated their "Western Auto" store as "Auto Supply Headquarters," if you will visit the store in your locality and make the acquaintance of the store manager.

TORNADO AREA CHECKS TOLL OF DEATH

Five States In Storm-Torn Mid-West Show 813 Lost, 3000 Hurt

CHICAGO, March 24.—The storm-torn mid-west, its eyes turned to visions of new and better cities and industries to rise from the ruins of Wednesday's tornado, paused in its work of reconstruction today to recount its dead and injured, recheck its losses and make its first accurate survey of the toll it paid to the havoc of the wind.

From this came figures showing a total of 813 dead in the five states. Approximately 3000 were injured although the check on these figures is admittedly not as certain as on the deaths. The casualty statistics are divided by states as follows:

ILLINOIS, 636.
INDIANA, 109.
TENNESSEE, 33.
KENTUCKY, 18.
MISSOURI, 14.

The property loss, the survey indicates, will run to $50,000,000.

Throughout the storm area today carefully organized committees were working among the injured and homeless, providing them with nursing and funds and arranging to give them aid in rebuilding their homes. Thousands of dollars raised in all parts of the country was pouring in for relief work, but workers pointed out that thousands more will be needed before anything like permanent alleviation of the conditions brought by the storm can be effected.

Care of the injured, today's survey indicated, is now well organized with virtually all danger of epidemic past.

MARK TWAIN FROG AT FASHION SHOW

Jumping Toad Made Famous By Humorist, At Last Becomes Useful

By AILEEN LAMONT

NEW YORK, March 24.—Mark Twain's jumping frog has at last got itself into fashion. For the frog is one of the newest ornaments to grace the stubby handles of the new spring umbrellas. This particular frog jumps, just as did the specimen told of by Clemens, revealing a cavity in the umbrella handle for mirror, powder puff and lipstick. Figures of dogs, parrots and green-eyed cats also are popular handle onaments.

The winter of our discontent means more than a quotation to women inclined to stoutness, for many put on flesh in the cold season. Now, however, they have convinced their friends they are slimmer than ever. The answer is the brassiere and the girdle combination. This substitute for the old-time corset, if properly fitted, gives the figure the appearance of slenderness without the uncompromising boyish flatness which ceased to be so desired.

For Rainy April

Many women in these days of taxicabs will not carry an umbrella but they can at least wear one. The latest afternoon frock reported by Paris dispatches is cerise crepe with a very short skirt, a rounded neck, sleeves, and a tunic-like inverted umbrella of Irish lace.

Naturally it is to London one looks for tea gowns to accompany the English five o'clock tea habit. The latest fad there is the pajama tea gown. This consists of rather tight black satin trousers with a stripe of gold embroidery down each leg and a short Japanese kimono of printed crepe at the waist with a sash.

LIFE CAST TAKING WAX FIGURE PLACE

Most Beautiful Of Models Used In Likenesses To Wear Clothes

By AILEEN LAMONT

NEW YORK, March 24.—It always has been difficult for a woman to hold an escort quiet before a plate glass window where feminine garments are displayed. But it will be easier from now on. For the simpering wax figures with stiff and impossible poses are disappearing and their places are being taken by life casts taken from the most beautiful of models posed by eminent sculptors.

Plaster of Paris is used to make the moulds, being applied to various parts of the model's body including the face. The figures are then finished in wax, bobbed hair is added and the eyes, cheeks and lips are colored by artists in so life-like a way as to make it seem the model herself were on exhibition. The poses are so arranged as to permit the adjustment of nearly any garment on the figure.

For the time being, most of the figures on exhibition will wear beautiful hats prepared for the Easter parade. The show rooms today resemble nothing so much as greenhouses in full bloom, for flowers undoubtedly will form the adornment of most of the headgear seen Easter morning.

Large Shapes

The large shapes are attracting much attention but their popularity is being somewhat limited by the fact that with the present day very short skirts, the large cape lines give a top-heavy appearance to the wearer unless she be tall. None the less there are some beautiful models now on view in hand-stitched crin and black satin, trimmed with large bunches of peonies and in black straw trimmed with bands of cyclamen ribbon.

The small hats are much simpler so far as trimming is concerned. Their appeal lies in the beauty of the straws and other materials which are of wonderful fineness and suppleness. The colors are varied. Beige in all its shades is popular as is a shade of red orange, almond green and certain tints of blue.

On the small black satin hats, the latest adornment is a bird—such as a parrot or a bird of paradise or flamingo embroidered in natural coloring on the front of the crown. These figures usually are about two inches high.

CIVIC BODY URGES FUND FOR SCHOOL

Advancement Body to Plan Another Bond Issue For Actual Needs

Herman Nelson, secretary-treasurer of the Glendale Advancement association will represent that body in an effort to form a joint committee from service clubs of the city to investigate grammar and high school needs and formulate plans for another school bond issue "commensurate with the present needs of the schools."

Action was taken by the Advancement association endorsing the move suggested by Col J. W. Everington that a committee to investigate and report on school conditions be formed. Composed of representatives of all service clubs, this committee would be thoroughly representative, it was pointed out by President C. W. Ingledue in bringing the matter before the Advancement club.

Supporters Speak

S. C. Kinch, Dr. Jessie Russell and Mr. Nelson supported the movement in short talks. Such a committee could demand sworn statements from school board members and school executives and secure all figures and data on the operation of schools, it was declared.

A delegation from the Advancement association and possibly the members of the City Planning commission will discuss the extension of Glendale avenue through the Atwater Park district at the meeting of the Atwater Improvement association next Monday night. An effort to co-ordinate efforts in Glendale and Atwater in furthering plans for the extension of the thoroughfare will be attempted at this meeting.

Dr. Charles Stewart, candidate for city council, spoke briefly at the meeting of the Advancement association held at the Harriett Mae Tea room today. President Ingledue presided.

Baptist Church Given License to Mortgage

The application of the First Baptist church to mortgage the church property for $70,000 was granted at a hearing held this morning in department 10 of the superior court in Los Angeles. Attorney Harry W. Chase, attorney for the Baptist church and J. Ray Bentley, chairman of the board of trustees, were present at the hearing. Contracts for the building of the new Baptist church will be signed within the next few days. According to law a church must be granted a permit by the supreme court before church property can be mortgaged.

DARKENED WINDOWS

"I don't know, except that they are the ones that Mr. Hurst and Hermann Tessler fought over so long. Mr. Tessler never forgave my husband for outbidding him. They had a terribly stormy interview here one night when I was present. Mr. Tessler offered my husband a fabulous sum if he would give up even one of the rings. When Mr. Hurst refused, he became so abusive that I was really frightened. Mr. Hurst laughed at his threats; he didn't care how many enemies he had; but I was frightened."

"Is that the Tessler who has the big house on Madison avenue?"

"Yes."

"What sort of a man is he?"

"I don't know, except that I think he is a little mad. I only know of him as a collector. Jewels are a passion with him. My husband's interest was in the collecting itself; with him the great thing was acquisition; with Mr. Tessler it was possession."

Flint was making rapid entries in his notebook. "This may prove a valuable clue," he said. "May I use your telephone, Mrs. Hurst? Thank you."

"He can's suspect her," thought Graham, struck by a certain softening of Flint's voice as he addressed Evadne. Flint's speech, always less slovenly than that of the usual police official, seemed to take on an added nicety in her presence. Graham took it as a subtle homage paid to her.

Flint was already bending over the telephone as Evadne went slowly toward the door, her soft, old-fashioned dress floating gracefully about her. "Remember my letter," she whispered to Graham as she left the room.

"Flint, at the telephone, did not hear. "This you, inspector?" he was saying. "Flint speaking. Can you get one of our people into Hermann Tessler's household? Case of hustle. Yes, above stairs. Yes, either one of them would be fine—Miss Morgan for choice. It's this way. I'd mightily like to know whether certain valuable rings have been added lately to his collection. Tell you all about it when I come around. Hurst case? Yes. New developments? Too many of them—head's fuzzy with them. Be in later. Good by."

"How can you put somebody into a man's house?" queried Graham.

"Oh, easy enough. Where there are a lot of servants there is pretty sure to be one who can be touched. Most of them will do a little favor for three figures—sometimes two will fetch them. We can usually tell our man—the fellow with the weak spot. We approach him and shortly afterward his mother dies and he begs a fortnight off to go west for the funeral; knows an excellent man, highly recommended, who would accommodate. Or it might be the parlor maid—tale slightly varied. We won't have any trouble."

"I shall never look at a new valet again without suspicion; and as to parlor maids, I forswear them," laughed Graham.

"Best thing for you to do is to keep a clear conscience," jested Flint.

A cold, uncomfortable sensation checked Graham's laughter. Could he say that his conscience was clear? Was he not withholding important evidence, thereby defeating the ends of justice? He, junior partner in the revered firm, pledged to carry on its honorable traditions! Then, as counsel for the defense, he pleaded extenuating circumstances of the prisoner at the bar. The firm, he pleaded, had never known Evadne.

Flint was busy replacing the ring trays in the safe. "I wonder whether that young woman could have overlooked the fourth ring, or whether her errand upstairs was to annex it, as you suggested, Mr. Graham! A poison ring—"

"Well, all I know is that the papers she said she went upstairs for were not in her hand when she came down."

Suddenly Flint beckoned to Graham. "Look at this!" he exclaimed. On the velvet lining of one of the trays, Graham, following the direction of Flint's pointing finger, saw a small, pale-green paillette.

"A woman has been at these," said Flint.

He removed the paillette by means of a small pair of pincers, and placed it carefully on a sheet of paper. Then he rang the bell. In a moment Denis appeared. "Send Mrs. Hurst's maid to me, will you?" he said. He whistled "The Last Rose of Summer" softly through his teeth as he waited, gazing thoughtfully down at the small green disk. It seemed to confide something to him, for Graham heard the tune, indicative of perplexity, change to that of "The Swanee River." Flint saw a gleam of light, and didn't like it.

He received Marie with a disarming smile. "I want your help in a little matter on which you women are authorities—dress," he said. "We men are a stupid lot when it comes to colors and trimmings and so on."

Marie's Gallic hands protested. The two smiled pleasantly at one another, amicable relations established.

"Now, what I want to know," continued Flint, "is whether you ever saw a dress with spangles on it like this."

He beckoned the maid over to the table where the paillette lay on its background of white paper, and watched her sharply as she bent over it. If he expected hesitation or reluctance in her recognition of it, he was mistaken.

"Mais oui, Monsieur—but, yes," she exclaimed "The paillete, it is from the dress of Miss Estelle, the dress she wear last night. Mon Dieu, how bad they sew in this country! The first time she wear it to drop like this!"

"France has many things to teach us," said Flint gallantly. "Well, what do you know about that!" he murmured, when the girl had left the room. Chin in hand, he stood ruminating, his eyes half closed behind his spectacles.

Graham hesitated to break in on his meditations, but time was flying. "I must be getting along or I shall miss my train," he said at last.

"I'll go with you," responded Flint, rousing himself.

Graham waited for him to speak of this latest discovery, this small green clue which he was carefully folding up in a piece of paper and stowing away in his capacious wallet. But on this subject he was evidently not yet ready to be communicative. His silence seemed to say: "There is the clue; you know as much as I do about it; draw your own conclusions."

Graham was on the point of venturing a question, when Flint suddenly spoke: "How long do you expect to be away?" he asked.

"That depends on how I find my uncle."

"I wish you would ask him about the provisions of Mr. Hurst's will, and wire me what they are, in case you do not return at once."

"Certainly," promised Graham, somewhat surprised. "I had forgotten that the will figured in the case. It can't, can it, after what Mrs. Hurst has told us about Hermann Tessler and the rings? It looks to me as if we had the whole thing right there. It was my idea in the first place, you know, that a thief committed the murder. I'm beginning to think that I am some sleuth!"

He laughed, and Flint laughed with him. Graham's laughter was deprecatory, Flint's indulgent.

"But, seriously," persisted Graham, "you and Breitman both acknowledged that if something was found to have been stolen from the safe it would go far toward establishing my theory. Well, something has been stolen.

"I'm not saying the thief was Tessler himself; he may have been merely the instigator, and, of course, all he could have contemplated was theft, not murder."

"Yes," nodded Flint, "a very plausible theory. But you have forgotten one thing—one very little thing."

"What is that?"

"A green spangle, Mr. Graham."

Descended from three generations of lawyers, Graham was eager to argue the case. "The spangle may have been there for days," he contended.

"The dress it came from was worn for the first time last night."

"Well, I stick to my thief," insisted Graham.

"But your theory leaves a lot of questions unanswered. Why, for instance, was Mr. Hurst stopping to change his will when he should have been dining with Colonel Sanford? What happened which induced him to change it? Something must have happened. Who telephoned, and what was the message which brought him hurrying home to his death? And who was the 'damn German'?"

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SQUISHY TEETER

Rain was pattering down in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily lived with his animal friends. The big drops had been falling all night and had washed away most of the snow that Jack Frost had carelessly left lying around. In the woods and fields were many puddles of water.

But "after the rain comes the shine," as a little bootblack used to say, and, surely enough, when the rain had ceased falling and the clouds had blown away out peeped the sun, smiling warmly.

"Now I shall go to seek an adventure!" cried jolly Uncle Wiggily, as he blew a kiss from the tip of his pink, twinkling nose to his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch standing in the corner. For, as his rheumatism didn't hurt him now, he had no need for the crutch.

"I hope you have a nice adventure," said Nurse Jane, who was getting ready to iron the clothes which Uncle Wiggily had helped her wash the day before.

"Thank you, I shall try to find one," spoke the bunny politely, and out of his hollow stump bungalow he jumped. He had not gone far before he reached a wide puddle of mud and water left by the rain of the night.

"Oh, ho! Now for a big jump over this puddle," cried the bunny, and, gathering his legs beneath him, through the air hopped Mr. Longears. He was a good jumper, as all rabbits are, and he easily cleared the puddle, coming safely down on the other side.

But as he looked back to see how wide the puddle was, that he might tell Nurse Jane of his big jump when he reached home—as Uncle Wiggily looked back he saw, standing on the far side of the mud hole Mrs. Twistytail, the fat lady pig.

"It's all very well for you, Uncle Wiggily, to jump over puddles as you did!" grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "But I can't do it, and how I am to cross goodness only knows!"

"I'll help you," offered the rabbit gentleman.

"You can't carry me over! Don't try it!" squealed the lady pig. "I'm so heavy you might drop me in the middle."

"I wasn't going to try to carry you over," said Mr. Longears. "But I will get a long board from the fence and put that over the puddle, like a bridge. Then you may cross in safety."

So Uncle Wiggily placed a fence board over the puddle, and on this Mrs. Twistytail crossed. She was so heavy that she made the board teeter tauter up and down like a see-saw, and one end sank away down in the mud. But the pig lady crossed safely and went on to do her shopping at the eleven and twelve cent store.

Uncle Wiggily had noticed how the plank over the puddle see-sawed up and down, and how, at one end, where it rested in the mud, it sent up a squishy fountain of brown water.

"Ho! Ho!" laughed the rabbit. "Here we have a squishy teeter! I'll just run over it and see how it feels." Uncle Wiggily was like a child, in some ways. He liked to play, like Peter Pan. So he ran back and forth over the plank across the puddle, teetering up and down, and each time he neared the end deepest in the mud up squirted a stream of water like a fountain, almost in the bunny's face.

"Oh, my squishy teeter is lots of fun!" laughed the rabbit and he was having a good time when, all of a sudden, out of the woods popped the Fuzzy Fox. The Fox saw the bunny out on the plank teeter and ran after him.

"I'll get you!" howled the Fox. But Uncle Wiggily ran the other way, jumping over the end of the board where the squishy fountain was. The Fox, knowing nothing about this, stepped on the plank where it rested in the mud.

Up into the face of the bad chap spurted a stream of mud and water, into his eyes, nose and mouth.

"Oh, I'm drowning! I'm drowning!" howled the Fox.

"Not quite!" laughed Uncle Wiggily as he hopped on through the woods. "But it will take you some time to get the mud and water out of your eyes." And it did, for the Fox couldn't see for an hour and then the bunny was safely home in his bungalow.

And if the teakettle doesn't pour the elephant's rubber boot full of molasses so he can't get it off when he goes to bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily stuck in the mud.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Glendale proof:

Mrs. I. C. Wasson, 623 Acacia St., says: "My back was so lame and weak that there wasn't much I could do about the house. The least task tired me and many times I had to sit down and rest. Bearing down pains across my kidneys were continual. Headaches and dizzy spells were also frequent when colored spots floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. My kidneys did not act properly and I felt run down and all out of sorts. However, after using Doan's Pills from Roberts & Echol's Drug Store, all trouble left me and I felt better in every way."

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

TROUBLESOME EARS (Part 2)

Ears are such important and delicate structures that if you have any trouble with them, you should go to your physician and he will advise an ear specialist if necessary.

However, I am writing these articles on ears because I know my feature appears in many isolated districts where there are no doctors. For instance, I had a letter from a woman who stated that there was no doctor in her little town and the nearest doctor was thirty miles away over the mountains. His charges for a trip were $50 because of the time and hardship incident to making it.

Today I am going to talk on hardened or impacted ear wax (cerumen).

The ear wax is normally secreted only in sufficient amounts to lubricate the ear canal and after it has been secreted it dries and scales off. There will be an increased secretion of this wax if there has been any disease of the ear, and sometimes in catarrh of the nose and throat. Those who are employed in dusty work, like coal mining and milling, also may be subject to these irritations which will cause increased amounts of the wax.

If you have a sense of fullness and itching and suddenly become more or less deaf in one ear, without any previous symptoms of inflammation, the chances are that you have a mass of ear wax in it. The deafness does not become noticeable until there is no opening through which the sound waves can be transmitted.

It is noticed that sometimes those who have impacted cerumen will be deaf only in damp weather. This is caused by the wax swelling a little in damp weather and closing the openings.

TREATMENT. If the mass is soft, syringing with a sufficient amount of warm water will remove it. If the wax is hard it can be softened by dropping three or four drops of a solution made of one level teasponful of baking soda, three ounces of water and one tablespoonful of glycerine, several times a day, before the syringing. Or, you can use peroxide of hydrogen and water, half and half.

The hearing may be made worse temporarily because this will cause the wax to swell.

If the mass of wax has come to the opening of the ear far enough so that it can be seen, there is no reason why some member of the family with a steady hand shouldn't grasp the protruding part with tweezers and gently remove it. However, if this isn't successful, do not persist, but use the syringing. The ear specialist or family physician can in many cases, quite easily remove large masses with their instruments.

Insects and small foreign bodies, such as children will often put in their ears, can often be removed by syringing. If the insect is a biting insect, such as an ant or tick, and it doesn't come away with syringing, it is possible that it has attached itself to the skin. In that case, you may have to chloroform it before syringing. This is done as follows: A tiny drop of chloroform is put on a small piece of cotton. This in turn is covered with sufficient cotton to make a plug to fit snugly into the canal. The chloroform will evaporate from the cotton into the canal. (You mustn't drop the chloroform directly into the canal because a blister may be formed).

If you find the insect doesn't come away after the chloroform is used, fill the canal with oil (any sweet oil) and try the syringing a little later.

Miss F. H.: "How are gold and silver chains cleaned?"

Answer: Half fill a wide-mouthed bottle with warm suds of castile soap; add one teaspoon of whiting. Put the chain into this, cork, and shake well. Rinse the chain in clear water and dry it in jewelers' sawdust.

Puzzled: "How are glass stoppers removed from bottles when stuck fast?

Answer: Pour a little glycerine around the neck of the stopper and let stand till the stopper will lift out easily (which stage may be reached in several hours, or in several days).

Inexperienced: "Please tell me how to launder 'tub silks'."

Answer: Make a lukewarm suds with dissolved white soap. Immerse the garment in this and cleanse by gentle squeezing and lifting up and down. Do not rub. Rinse in clear, lukewarm water, making sure to get all the soap out. Press between the hands instead of wringing. Pongee, Tussore and Shantung silks should be pulled into shape, then hung in the shade until dry, and ironed on the wrong side with a warm iron (a hot one turns white silk yellow); if this ironing does not remove all of the creases, you may cover these creased portions with a damp cloth and press over it. But all other tub silks except the three above-named should be rolled in a Turkish towel after the rinsing and ironed on the wrong side when just evenly damp. Ironing while too wet makes the silk stiff and papery. Very thin silks may have the "body" restored by being dipped in the following: Gum Arabic Solution—Dissolve two level tablespoons of gum arabic in one quart of lukewarm water, then strain through cheesecloth. This solution is also splendid for stiffening a child's hair ribbons. The garment, or ribbon, should be dipped into this solution while still wet, after being squeezed out of its last rinse water. Hang on the line in a shady spot, and iron as above described.

Tomorrow—Hot Tamales

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

L. B. C.—Your bust will recover after a time, but you can help it along by stimulating the circulation through dashing cold water over it every day, and using light friction from the bath towel while drying the skin. If you used camphor to dry up the milk, it will take longer for recovery.

Lulu—With a dark skin, brown eyes and hair, your best colors to choose from will be all those found in the autumn foliage. The foods to avoid when reducing are the starchy, oily and the sweet ones. The most fattening of these are white flour and potatoes, and when you take pastry or candy you are concentrating on the fat producing foods.

Anxious—For a girl of 18 to have grey hairs, it shows that either her nervous system is at fault or there is some scalp trouble. Occasionally there are dead hairs that lose their color, but these will drop out, and if not, a general building up of the health is required to overcome the tendency. If you do not think that your health causes the trouble, have a scalp specialist give you treatments for a time. You will always help improve any bad condition of the scalp if you massage it yourself every day.

Red Head—As your hair is naturally of an auburn shade it will not require any tinting to keep it so. If you use the lemon juice in the rinse as you suggest, you will lighten the shade, and also tend to make the hair harsh. The only thing you can do would be to use a henna rinse if your hair loses the reddish tinge or if it gets too dark to suit you. Your proportions are all right, but you are about 15 pounds overweight, as a girl of 17 years with a height of five feet, three inches should weigh about 115 pounds.

Kat—The paste you mentioned is a depilatory that rots the hair, but it does not have any action upon the roots. Many women keep the armpits clear by shaving occasionally.

Miss R. L.—Your daily care of your skin is correct but you will need more to counteract this tendency to flabbiness. Beside the ice rubs, take a weekly astringent treatment such as you get in the beauty parlors; one part white of egg and six parts water will make an excellent astringent, which you can apply yourself. Any puffiness under the eyes comes from a disturbance of some function in your system and should be cared for by your doctor.

Tomorrow—Care of the Hair

Rub Away Baby's Colds

A Boon to Mothers

Mothers everywhere who realize the danger to delicate little stomachs of too much dosing appreciate the value of Vicks in treating croup and children's colds.

With Vicks there is nothing to swallow—you just rub it on. The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Turpentine—in the form of vapors which carry the medication directly to the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Colds go overnight, croup is generally relieved within 15 minutes.

HULI TRUCKS DEFEAT RADIO IN FAST TILT

League Leaders Cinch Top Position by Turning Back Contenders, 29 to 18; Hard Playing Marks Contest

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Huli Trucks retained their hold on top place and forced the Radios down to third place last night when the truckmen defeated the Radios 29 to 18 at the Harvard High school gym last night in one of the snappiest battles ever played in the Glendale Merchants' league.

The victory for the truckmen last night assures them of first place when the league finishes, without a tie for top honors, and makes possible a tie for second place with the Calla Lily aggregation and the Radios sharing the next to high spot.

The truckmen have only one game left on the season's schedule, meeting the M. E. churchmen next week. The churchmen sprang a surprise in the first round by defeating the truckmen, 29 to 28, but it is not likely they will repeat, inasmuch as Weise, star center and basket shooter for the churchmen, has been out of the game three weeks with an injured elbow and is not expecting to get into the fray next week. The churchmen have lost all their games played in the second round.

The truckmen took the lead early in the game last night and were never headed. The closest the Radios came to the truckmen was in the second period, when the Margin was only three points. At half time the truckmen were leading 17 to 7. The Radios did their biggest scoring in the third period when they shot four baskets and a free throw while holding the truckmen to one basket and one free throw. The detailed story of the game follows:

First Quarter

The Huli Trucks chose the east basket, the Radios the west basket. Coach Eugene Wolfe tossed up the first ball at 7:54 o'clock. Wilde (H. T.), got the tipoff, passing to Fanset (H. T.), who passed to C. Jensen (H. T.). Jensen's shot missed by inches. Fanset got the rebound and after the ball had been passed back and forth, Jensen caged one, 2-0, shooting from the middle of the north side line. Six minutes of intense play passed before Doll (H. T.) succeeded in locating the hoop from in under 4-0, and two minutes later Doll got another basket, 6-0. Neel (R.), scored the only point the Radios made during the opening stanza when he sank a free throw on Doll's foul, holding. Jensen caged a goal a few seconds before the quarter ended: Huli Trucks, 8; Radios, 1.

Second Quarter

One minute after play opened in the second quarter, Jensen caged a goal after several truckmen had tried to locate the hoop and the ball had been batted around freely. Facing a margin of nine points, the Radios tried hard to score, but four minutes went by before Neel scored a basket, 10-3. A few seconds later he shot another from near the center ring, 10-5, and McKowan (R.), found the hoop from one corner, 10-7. This was the closest the Radios got to the truckmen's lead, for Jensen made one from under the basket, 12-7, and was followed by Fanset, 14-7. Jensen made the first but missed the second free throw on McKowan's foul, pushing, 15-7. Jensen scored again, 17-7. Neel missed on Doll's foul, pushing. The half ended: Huli Trucks, 17; Radios, 7.

Third Quarter

This period was marked by hard fighting by the Radios. The ball was worked up and down the court for three minutes before a basket was made, Neel getting one from near the circle, 17-9. Fanset added two points for the truckmen a minute later, 19-9. Doll made a free throw on Neel's foul, pushing, 20-9. Neel brought the spectators to their feet with the most sensational shot of the entire game, a toss from mid-floor which went true, making the score 20-11. McAllister (R.), added another point on Wilde's foul, charging, 20-12. Neel scored again, 20-14. The shot was from under the basket. Neel dropped one in the basket on a long shot, 20-16. The ball was in midfloor as the period ended: Huli Trucks, 20; Radios, 16. Of the nine points made by the Radios in the third period, Neel accounted for eight of them.

Fourth Quarter

Denby (H. T.), opened the scoring in the final period by sinking a free throw on McAllister's foul, pushing, 21-16. Doll missed on McKowan's foul, pushing. Denny made his first basket from the floor, 23-16. Jensen batted a goal from a jump ball, 25-16. Jensen shot from the side and scored, 27-16. Wimmer made the Radios' only basket in the fourth period, shooting from near the circle, 27-18. Denny scored another basket, 29-18. NEW YORK, March 24.—Eddie Cannonball Martin has lost his title as bantamweight champion, but in the manner of losing it he proved himself to be a champion of champions.

The idea of his risking his crown so soon after ascending the throne has thrown a scare into the rest of the champions, who are afraid that Martin's bravery will set a popular fashion which they cannot ignore.

The usual course of a champion to preserve his title is no decision bouts against set-ups until an order from the boxing commission forces him to put it in jeopardy. Martin picked the hardest opponent he could find in Rosenberg. He knew him well. The two have engaged in four hectic bouts and both have always held the highest respect for each other.

In fact, both the former champion and the present champion for some time have been coming in around 120 in all their scraps and it certainly looked as though Rosenberg especially had drawn himself pretty fine in making the weight of his class. Martin was down to wire edge too.

But the way the two boys stepped through the fifteen rounds gave no indication that the hard training they had done had sapped their vitality or affected their strength. Rosenberg's victory was so clean-cut that toward the end of the bout it was apparent that in order to regain his title, Martin would have to knock his opponent out.

This he tried to do and the influence of Tommy Murphy's instruction in how to improve his hitting showed very plainly. Perhaps with more weight on him the snap which he is now getting into his wallops will be a real sleep-producer.

The fight was sensational all the way through, and the big crowd roared and cheered as they followed the course of what may be the last title bout held in the old garden.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 24.—Branch Rickey today did not claim to be a fortune teller, nor did he indicate that it was his custom to play solitaire, but after a thorough shuffling of the cards for 1925, he neatly cut the deck and turned up aces for the infield, outfield and behind the bat.

He announced that he was entirely satisfied with what he had uncovered for these departments, but as to the pitching staff—well, that was not exactly a pleasant subject for discussion. In fact, Mr. Rickey showed an inclination to talk learnedly and at length on any and all subjects other than pitching.

Nor would he permit himself to be pinned down to any prediction as to St. Louis' probable standing among the clubs at the conclusion of the 1925 season. But he said:

"The experts choose to rank us as a second division club, drawing their conclusions from the dope. We hope to upset the experts this year.

"The club has hitting power. When I say this, the fans naturally picture Hornsby. But we have other good hitters besides Hornsby. On that account, I will make the prediction that you will see the Cards among the leaders in runs scored at the end of the season.

"That naturally puts it up to the pitching and the defense in general. I just naturally dislike to discuss pitching, for it is this department that has kept the Cardinals out of a pennant for years. I believe my pitching will be improved this season. I look for Duster Mails to deliver in his turn, and we have another fine prospect in Rhem, a young right hander."

Mike Gonzales is the leading catcher, with Roscoe Holm and Walter Schmidt, wafted to the Cards from the Pirates, as chief assistants. Vic is back again from Louisville but will have to show cause to Al Bool, up from Fort Smith. In addition to Hornsby and Jim Bottomley, the rest of the infield will be picked from among Bell, Freigau, Toporcer, Cooney and Thevenow. These are either weak hitters or weak fielders or both, but Rickey feels that he can get by with what he has.

Blades, Myers, Smith and Mueller are veteran outfielders who may or may not be displaced by Shinners, up again from Toledo; Hafey, from Houston, and Taylor Douthit, the St. Joe prospect.

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—The Angel regulars will face the Cubs here today in the first of a two-game series. The men Manager Krug sends against the National leaguers today will probably be the 1925 Angel lineup.

After the Cubs finish their series with the Angels they will engage in a series with the Vernon Tigers and again on Sunday with the Seraphs.

Robert Roy Fothergill, right handed hitting outfielder for the Detroit club, may join the Vernon club with the opening of the season.

Manager Bill Killefer of the Cubs, will send his second team to Santa Maria to play Wade Killefer's Indians on Saturday and Sunday.

Nurmi To Stop Off At Albuquerque For Race

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 24.—Local promoters were said today to have practically received assurance from Paavo Nurmi, the phantom Finn, to appear in a series of races here next month, when the world's champion runner goes to the coast. Fleet Zuni Indians will be his opponents. The Indians are said to be capable of making seven and a half miles in thirty-four minutes.

FEATHERWEIGHT BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Tod Morgan of Vallejo, Cal., and Seattle, and Stewart McLean of St. Paul, have been matched to box ten rounds in Oakland April 1, it was announced today. They are featherweights.

BANTAMS TO BOX IN VERNON RING

McLarnin And Silva Hook Up Tonight In Ten-round Fast Main Event

Jimmy McLarnin and Teddy Silva, two of the coast's leading bantams, will step into the ring at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena for a ten-round main event. Both scrappers have large followings in Southern California and will be cheered from start to finish with a roar that will make the walls of the big tight palace bulge and the roof raise slightly.

McLarnin has been resting up since his battle with Fidel LaBarba, when they put on the first extended bout at Vernon under the new law. Silva is rated as a harder hitter than LaBarba and the outcome of tonight's battle is hard to predict.

Young Nationalista and Joe Ryder will meet in the semi-windup, a six-round affair. Tracy Ferguson and Roy Moore, welterweights, will occupy the special spot in a six-round event. Jack Comby and Johnny Fiske are matched for four rounds, and Kid Cervaco and Billy Howard will open the show with a four-round racket.

TWO TRACK MEETS HERE THIS WEEK

Class B and C Squads In Preliminaries Tomorrow, Finals Saturday

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Track practice for the class B and C squads which has been in full swing during the past week will slacken up during the first of this week while the boys prepare for the big Class B and C league meets held on Broadway field this week. Tomorrow will see the local stamping ground crowded with a hundred or so youngsters from the five other schools in the loop who will participate in the Wednesday preliminaries to the final meet Saturday.

Glendale's chances for winning loom up pretty well for already the local underslugs have proven themselves worthy to uphold the Red and Black in walking off with first honors in all the meets they have contested in during the preliminary season. After Saturday the season for the Band C squads will be practically ended.

The six teams in the Central league are: Glendale, South Pasadena, Citrus, Alhambra, Monrovia and Covina. Citrus and Covina are expected to furnish the strongest competition for the Dynamiters. Alhambra and South Pasadena were overwhelmingly defeated by the Dynamiters in dual meets during the early part of the season. The Monrovia track team is not considered very strong.

Dynamite Ball Teams Face Stiff Schedule

With the 1925 league schedule an event of the near future Coach Wolfe is putting his pelota men through some stiff practice this week and next. Three regular games are slated for this week and next week Coach Wolfe expects to get two or three more.

Today the first team journeys to Lincoln, while tomorrow the seconds play Venice here. Thursday the Railsplitters play a return game with the regulars here, and Friday the boys from Southern Branch work out with Wolfe's best on Broadway field. All games are scheduled to begin between 3 and 3:30 o'clock.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 24.—The players under John J. McGraw's guidance have never looked better than they do this spring. It might be Decoration day in New York instead of the third week of March in Florida, judging by their form.

Just as was the case in 1924 the principal factor in estimating the New York Giants' chance of capturing their fifth successive pennant, is the condition of their pitchers. This is not a new idea. The veriest baseball novice could discover it upon looking the team over. When one notes how well it is fortified on the infield and what a fine reserve it has for the outfield and when one considers the calibre of its catching, it is easy enough to see that the pennant question is squarely up to the pitchers.

If they go well, the giants will storm into their fifth pennant. If they go poorly the Giants will be forced to a fight. But they have material with which to fight—material which stands superior to that of most of the teams with which they will come in contact.

It is idle to figure upon the possibility that the Giants will break because some of their players are close to the baseball meridian, or have passed it. Any ball team runs the risk of breaking down the moment it takes the field. But just now the Giants show no signs of a break.

The strongest National League team the writer has seen so far, as against the Giants, is Pittsburgh. The Chicago Cubs appeared to be better trained when the writer was in California. But calculations in regard to the Cubs have been overthrown by the accident to Maranville, and Pittsburgh comes next.

Off-hand it looks as if Pittsburgh had more collective speed than the Giants. But it does not have greater experience, nor does it possess the underlying power of attack that the Giants possess. That factor will go a long way toward deciding the National League race. If Pittsburgh overcomes its diffidence or backwardness or whatever it has been in the past that always manifests itself when the fight becomes too close and single games mean as much as pay dirt in a gold mine, they may steer the sharp bow of their craft into the Giant gunboat and wreck it. But they have got to do that. They can't best this veteran team despite all their speed, unless they can utilize that speed to the last ounce all the time.

If anything, the Giants have been trained down here to the place where they are very finely drawn. Rarely does a team of experienced players get to that stage in the spring. But the superb weather in Florida this spring has put the club into such physical condition that not one of its members can get one inch with an excuse of a lame arm. Staleness is more of a possibility than soreness.

But their form upon their arrival in New York means much in the McGraw method of attack, which is to get the jump on the other fellow. They should sweep through their spring games with Boston and Philadelphia like a cyclone.

Hack Wilson and Walker, of the Giant outfield, are still pulling pine needles out of their feet, if fellow members of the team are to be believed. The Giants journeyed to Fort Myers the other day to play the Athletics a return engagement, and were soundly spanked. The Athletics had a rush of home runs to the bat, and as a home run in former years means hitting the ball into the Florida pines it is as easy to figure out where the Giant outfielders got the souvenirs.

TINY HERMAN

PORTLAND, March 24.—Tiny Herman, Portland heavyweight, was the holder today of a decision over Bob Roper of Roanoke, Va., following their ten-round bout here last night. Herman unleashed a slashing body attack in the final rounds and won easily. The Portland boxer used a straight left effectively but any consistent attack on his part was entirely lacking.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

NEW YORK, March 24.—Track experts say that the frequency with which startling feats on the board track have succeeded one another this winter may be explained only on mental grounds. The American sports public this winter has witnessed, they say, a demonstration of the power of psychology as related to athletic endeavors that is nothing short of miraculous.

When the late Mike Murphy stood in that dimly lighted dressing room at Franklin Field some years ago and said: "If you won't be beat you can't be beat," he coined a phrase that has lived not because of its picturesqueness, but because of its truth.

It inaugurated a new era in American amateur sports, inasmuch as it opened the eyes of everyone to the mental side of athletics, which thereupon assumes an importance no less than the physical side.

Coaches and trainers came to recognize that unless they could fire the souls and develop the will of their men, their efforts would fail of high achievement, no matter how well qualified they might be technically.

But it was not until the stirring events of the current indoor season began that track enthusiasts realized the full scope of the possibilities of mind over matter.

For years American athletics had been going along in the belief that the ultimate, or very nearly the ultimate, in the matter of speed had been reached. Joie Ray's time for the indoor mile was regarded as a hopeless mark to shoot at, and even Ray was possessed with the idea that he had given his best.

Then Nurmi came. His achievements primarily had the effect of convincing American athletics that records that had existed before he arrived in this country were by no means the highest standard of human accomplishment.

For a time nothing happened so far as the Americans were concerned. They seemed under the spell of an inferiority complex, especially in meets where Nurmi appeared.

Then suddenly the spell was broken. Willie Ritola was the first to cast off the fetters. Running as never before in his career, he began to astonish the clock in a manner second only to Nurmi. Then Lloyd Hahn shot to the fore, passing Nurmi's mile record. Nurmi got it back, and then, as though suddenly awakened to his real power, Joie equalled the great Finn's showing.

And while this was going on, Willie Plant, Harold Osborne and other athletes were turning in records in their various specialties. As a great trainer put it today, the mental lid is off, the psychological pressure on American athletics has been removed and no one knows what the effect will be in the approaching outdoor season. That it will be great is not to be doubted.

FARMER WILL DRAFT OWN MEASURES

Senator Capper Makes This Observation Leaving On Farm Inspection

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—"The American farmer will draft his own legislative relief program for the next session of Congress."

With this observation, Senator Capper, Republican of Kansas, chairman of the Senate farm bloc was en route today for the agriculture west to ascertain at first hand just what the farmer wants from Congress. He plans to consult farmers in the fields, agricultural experts and governors of farm states, but to let the farmers decide for themselves what legislation is necessary to insure agriculture prosperity.

Capper has his own ideas about a relief program. It would consist of enacting bills to foster co-operative marketing and to create an expert corporation.

"I'll put in the summer attending meetings of farmers to learn what the farmer wants from Congress," said Capper. "The farmer did not get much help from the last session of Congress because his organizations failed to unite in support of any single measure. It would be different in the next session, because I intend to give the farmers a chance to speak for themselves."

While Capper is visiting western farmers, the president's own agricultural commission will meet in Washington and continue its work probing agricultural conditions. The commission, of which former Governor Robert D. Carey of Wyoming is chairman, is expected to recommend enactment of a co-operative marketing bill. This measure would lend the government's aid to associations created among the farmers.

Marketing Bill

"I expect a co-operative marketing bill will be passed at the next session," said Capper, commenting on the commission's work. "There will also be a drive to enact the McNary-Haugen bill. These two bills would remedy the present situation in my opinion, as one would remove surplus crops from the domestic market and the other would remove the great middle man's profits that have ruined so many farmers.

"Passage of these two bills would fulfill all the farmers' needs but I intend to let him judge for himself and report his recommendations to Congress next fall."

Interclub Visits by Exchangeites Planned

The Glendale Exchange club will inaugurate an interclub relations campaign to be carried out during the coming year, President William Baker announced at the meeting of the club held today noon at the Masonic temple. W. Vanderwood and C. E. Kimlin were named members of the committee in charge of this phase of the club's activities, and they will designate two members to visit a club each week.

Mrs. Mabel Cappell, vocalist, rendered several selections, with Mike Kaufmann, club musician, as accompanist. It was announced Dr. H. R. Harrower would sail from England tomorrow and President Baker appointed D. Ripley Jackson, J. C. May and R. E. Johnston as members of a reception committee. The attendance prize was won by Ralph Pierce. The silent boost was donated by R. W. Ahlmann. Dr. G. A. Campbell reported on the attendance drive.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, March 24.—Selling pressure was lifted from the stock market today and many of the active stocks started their laborious climb back to higher prices. Except in the stocks which were heavily sold by bearish traders in recent sessions, the market made little progress. Further liquidation was in progress in the oil stocks and some of the rails and motors.

Trading dwindled to the smallest volume in more than two weeks. Improvement in the money market positions and in the technical position of the stock market, which resulted from the heavy liquidation since March 2, has not attracted any great number of buyers into the stock market, and sellers can dispose of large offerings only at concessions in prices.

The market was held in check in the first three hours by short covering of the industrial leaders, which sold up 2 to 5 points from Monday's close.

But selling broke out in the oil leaders in the early afternoon. With active oil stocks like Standard Oil of New Jersey and Marland selling at the lowest price of the year to date and most of the independent oils gradually sinking to lower prices, stocks in this group have lost practically all of their 1925 advances. Pan-American and California Petroleum were the strong spots in the oil list.

An attack on the stock of the northwestern railroads preceded the selling in the railroad shares. Chicago & Northwestern lost 6 points and declined to a new low of 56; Northern Pacific was down 4 points; Great Northern, 3; New York Central struck a new low at 115, and active railroad shares like Union Pacific, Atchison, Frisco common, Texas & Pacific, Kansas City Southern, Lehigh Valley, New Haven, Baltimore & Ohio, lost from 1 to 3 points and broke through their previous low prices for the year.

Selling of the rails stifled the modest raid which was in progress in the industrial stocks, and prices went tumbling to the low levels the first hour, with stocks of copper companies leading the decline. Chile Copper sold down to 31 and Cerro de Pasco broke through to 43.

EASTER SERVICES

RIVERSIDE, Mar. 24—Weather permitting, Riverside will have its greatest Easter sunrise services on Mt. Rubidoux April 12. Only a few details in connection with the famous annual program have yet to be prepared by the special committee. With its plans definitely arranged, the music committee has included in the 1925 program features which will add considerably to the effectiveness of Riverside's community affair. Everything has been designed with the expectation that greater crowds than ever before will gather around the Serra cross to worship Easter.

STREET TO BE WIDENED

PASADENA, March 24—Colorado street, Pasadena's east-west artery, is to be widened. This age-old announcement has been made again, but this time action is to be taken and the widening will actually take place, it is said. Because of the great expense of slashing off the fronts of high business buildings the proposal to widen this thoroughfare has been delayed several times, but now the property owners as well as the city administration are agreed on a plan of action. Colorado street varies in width from 56 feet to 85 feet from Broadway to Orange Grove avenue. It is planned to widen the entire stretch to 95 feet.

LAND OFFICE PAYS

BIG CROP EXPECTED

ONTARIO, March 24.—Growers of peaches and apricots in the Ontario district are anticipating a successful year. Both peaches and apricots are setting well and indications are that the mysterious ailment which cut down the crop last year will not be experienced this year. A large crop is on trees in orchards around Ontario. The co-operative cannery, the largest in California, is preparing for a capacity run.

BURCHETT STREET TO BE EXTENDED

Planning Commission Puts Approval On Plan Of City Engineer

The City Planning commission last night approved the plan submitted by John F. Johannsen, city engineer, for an extension of Burchett street west to San Fernando road at a junction with Grand View avenue. Inasmuch as opening and widening proceedings are under way for the extension of Burchett east to connect with Monterey road, this will give a long, through street in north Glendale, connecting San Fernando road on the west city limits with Verdugo road on the east. Last night's meeting was held at the City Hall and was presided over by T. W. Watson, chairman.

A communication from V. M. Hollister, Bert P. Woodard and J. W. Usilton, Wilson avenue property owners, asking that this street be widened, was read before the commission and P. J. Hayselden, secretary, was requested to write these men stating that a petition from Wilson avenue property owners affected by the proposed proceedings will be necessary before the commission can act.

A delegation of Glendale Heights property owners headed by W. P. Hope, appeared before the commission with the request that builders in this tract be made to live up to the $3,500 deed restrictions. They were told that they would have to seek recourse through the courts, either separately or collectively.

Mr. Hope then asked if the commission would aid them in securing one-family zoning for the district. This they were told was within the province of the city planners. They were asked to form a committee to lay the matter before H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent.

The Glendale Heights delegation also wanted to know if it would be possible to lower the grade at the top of the hill where Adams street connects with York boulevard. They were told that the city engineer has plans prepared for this work and that the City Council will institute proceedings for lowering this grade on presentation of a majority petition.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, March 24.—Improvement of Glassell avenue by fall is now practically assured. A petition has been circulated and is now in the hands of the Los Angeles City Council, together with a resolution from the local Realty board, urging that the work be undertaken without delay. H. G. Warren, president of the board, has received the following letter from Councilman Edwin Baker, a resident of Eagle Rock:

"Referring to the resolution of the Eagle Rock Realty board which you delivered to me and I in turn introduced into the City Council, I beg to inclose herewith for your information a copy of a report received from the city engineer, which conveys the information you desire relative to the improvement of Glassell avenue. If there is any additional information you wish, kindly advise me and I will be pleased to furnish the same."

The report referred to by Councilman Baker sets forth in detail the history of the proposed improvement, dating from February, 1921, and is now on file in the offices of the local realty board.

Mrs. A. G. Reily, president of the W. C. T. U., whose name was placed in nomination for recording secretary of the District Federation of Women's clubs at the meeting held on March 12, wishes to announce the withdrawal of her name as a candidate. She takes this action owing to the fact that on the same day the names of Mrs. J. R. Dudley and Mrs. J. S. Thayer, seasoned federation workers, were placed in nomination.

The brotherhood of the Annandale M. E. church will have its regular dinner tonight from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Burdette Daniels, 5231 Maywood avenue, who recently returned from the east has taken a part time position in the sport goods department of a Los Angeles store. Mr. Daniels is completing his studies at the College of Law, University of Southern California.

Mrs. Virginia Freeman Loses Pet Angora Cat

"Fluffy," the white Angora cat owned by Mrs. Virginia Freeman of 316 West Dryden street, has disappeared. The cat was last seen yesterday morning and the parties interested are much concerned as to its whereabouts. Mrs. Freeman is offering a reward for its return.

Paynes Entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Welch

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Welch of Westfield, N. Y., were luncheon guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Payne, 523 West Milford street. Dr. Welch is president of the Welch Grape Juice Co. of Westfield, N. Y.

LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, March 24.—School days when the three R's were the only requirements were recalled Saturday night to the residents of Highway Highlands and friends. Under direction of Mrs. George Yersen, assisted by Mrs. Roy Lefevre, a group of grownups gave a party dressed as were the children of thirty years ago. School was opened with the singing of "America," with Mrs. R. Q. McDonald as Miss Drinkwater, the teacher, at the piano. Mrs. McDonald wore a costume with the old-fashioned high collar and leg-of-mutton sleeves and a bustle. Mrs. Roy Lefevre and Paul Rodet portrayed two colored children and kept the others in mischief by their actions. The program was as follows:

"Good Morning, Merry Sunshine," by the school; "Words of Welcome," by Mrs. A. F. Hopkins; "For a Small Girl," Mrs. Roy Tate as Betty; "Chop Sticks," piano duet,. Percy and Fanny Hopkins; 'School Days," sung by the school; "A Legend," by Mrs. Roy Berry as Abigail, the tender little girl, whose feelings are easily hurt; recitation, by Mary Jane Dunlap and Mrs. Hazel Dunlap; "Auld Lang Syne," by the school; "Tail of a Dog and a Bee," by A. F. Hopkins as Percy, the sissy boy, with the lace collar; "Little Girl With a Curl," Mrs. Hazel Frasher; "Mr. Froggy Goes Awooing," Lilly Snow,; organ solo, "Black Hawk Waltz," Mrs. Paul Rodet; "Do Something," Mrs. Peggy Hannigan; "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," quartet by George Washington Jones, the colored boy, Freckles, Noah Berry and Nathan Tate. "Down By the Old Guard House," by Roy Tate as Nathan, was a very funny poem with the words reversed, proving most popular with the audience; Freckles Lefevre sang an old ballad, "Down in Arkansaw"; "Mary's Little Lamb" was heard of through Becky Few Clothes, while Lilly Snow, colored child, told of the little red schoolhouse. Mrs. George Yersen was the dignified older scholar, who recited "Little Orphant Annie." After the program the teacher invited Dr. Annis, school trustee to say a few words to the children. Among the questions asked were: "Who is governor of the state?"; answer, "Mr. Collins." "What is the most important river in the United States?"; answer, "Los Angeles river." "What is the capital of the United States?"; answer, "Hollywood." After school visitors were served refreshments by the children. The group will repeat their success for the Parent-Teacher association on "Fathers' Night," at the La Crescenta school, April 1.

Book Week will be observed in the La Crescenta valley by those who wish to contribute books to the box at the branch library, corner of Los Angeles and Montrose avenues. These books will be collected at the end of Book week by the county librarians, who will, in turn, distribute them to the men of the Merchant Marine. All vessels touching at Los Angeles harbor will be given books for the benefit of the crews, through the efforts of the California Library association. All books donated for the cause will find a warm welcome on the outgoing vessels. The local library is open on Wednesday and Saturday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock and Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. No magazines will be accepted for the box.

The thirteenth birthday of Miss Elma Ruth Kieth was celebrated with a party Saturday night, at the home of her parents on West Altura avenue. Table decorations were in pink, the cake having thirteen pink candles. Games were played. Those present were: Elizabeth Talbot Martin, Margery Wildhack, Jane Ellen Ande, Constance and Jean Angier, Margaret O'Brien. Marian Kieth, elder sister of the honoree, was assisted in serving by her father, Frank B. Kieth.

The last of the "Pilgrim's Progress" pictures being shown at the La Crescenta Community church were given last night. The pictures were described in detail by Rev. H. MacLaughlin of Glendale. Rev. MacLaughlin, who is the father of Mrs. Simon Bickel, has been serving in the pulpit of the Community church since the resignation of Rev. H. Kelso. Mr. Jones of Poucime, in the northern part of the state, served last Sunday. It is probable he will be called to fill the pastorate here. Rev. MacLaughlin will continue to take charge of the Bible class in Sunday school. Special music is being practiced by the Sunday school for Easter services, under the direction of E. Brown, superintendent of the school. The choir under the leader, F. MacDaniels, is also preparing Easter music.

Verdugo Hills post, No. 288, of the American Legion has prepared a sumptuous dinner for those who have purchased tickets for their annual mess call to be held tomorrow night in the Crescenta school auditorium. For those not having reservations the Buddies have set extra tables, so no one will be turned away. Speakers will be Past National Commander Thomas R. Quinn and Dr. Lincoln Wirt. Mrs. William Reed, popular clubwoman of the valley, will sing, with Mr. Reed playing a violin obligato accompaniment. Frank Ridge, leader of the Hollywood sextette, will give some of his original snappy songs, and those who heard him at the Legion show know the fun in store for them. Mrs. Guy Carlton of Sparr Heights will contribute several musical numbers. All of the Los Angeles county officials of the Legion will be present in person. The Buddies look for a full house. Girl and Boy Scouts of the valley will serve the dinner, which is set for 6:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow the Women's club of La Crescenta valley will hold its regular monthly business meeting. Mrs. Charles Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, will be the guest of honor. Mrs. Charles Turck, president of the La Crescenta club, requests every member to be present to honor Mrs. Toll on her first visit to the club. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Turck, on El Centro street, above Michigan avenue, between Rosemont and Briggs avenues.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, March 24.—The David Copperfield Recreation club of Broadway High school met at the home of Miss Dorothy Wooley last Saturday afternoon for initiation and a social. New members received were: Arola Oster, Edith Palutzke and Mary Slick. Guests and the hostess were dressed as children in short frocks and half hose. Guests were: Miss J. Holmer and Miss D. Cornelius, teachers of literature; Leonore Lewis, the Misses Oster, Padutzke and Slick. Refreshments were served by Mrs. G. Wooley, mother of the hostess.

Stephen Myers, owner of the Montrose hotel block and other business properties has purchased the southeast corner of Ocean View and Honolulu avenues, the consideration reported to be in the neighborhood of $10,000. Mr. Myers said he has faith in the future of this growing community. The purchase of the opposite corner a few weeks ago by Theo. Belanger, another large property holder and business man of Montrose, was another indication of future prosperity.

Montrose postoffice has moved into its fourth home since its beginning two years ago, each move necessitated by the growth of business. The new building is of stucco erected by Theo. Belanger, who gave the postoffice its first home in his drug store. In the rear there is a large sorting room anticipating the time when Montrose will handle the distribution of valley rural route mails. This will be in a few weeks as the petition carrying the required number of names has already gone forward to Washington, D. C., and will, no doubt, receive immediate approval. A flag pole has been erected on the front end of the new building. Mrs. Frances Brown continues as postmistress.

The regular meeting of the Verduo Hills lodge, I. O. O. F., will be held tonight in the Fowler auditorium, corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues.

DR. SCHURMAN IS PROLIFIC WRITER

Ambassador To Germany Best Educated Man In World, Claim

By ROBERT T. SMALL

WASHINGTON, March 24.—If Dr. George Jacob Schurman, newly appointed ambassador to Germany had had any enemies he would give them great joy. He is forever more writing books. He has written on every subject from "Kantian Ethics," whatever they may be, down through "Agnosticism and Religion" to "Why America is In the War." He has been out in China "crost the bay," these last four years and has several tomes in preparation on that troubled country. His forthcoming stay in Berlin will give him an opportunity to contribute further to the literature of after the war.

When Dr. Schurman goes to Germany he will be treading upon the familiar ground of his student days. He was educated at Heidelburg and at the Universities of Berlin and Gottingen. As a matter of fact, Dr. Schurman is by way of being about the best and the most educated man in all the world today.

In addition to the German universities he studied at Paris, at the University of Edinburgh and in Italy. He has as many college degrees as Carter had oats. As a teacher, philosophy was his hobby. His twenty-eight years as president of Cornell brought that institution up to the first rank of American universities.

Record In China

Out in China, Dr. Schurman has been having a very pleasant time despite the upset condition of the countries, what with its revolution and various presidents and everything. Among the foreign correspondents in Peking, Dr. Schurman is known as the "dining diplomat" for, despite his nearly 71 years, he can run the gauntlet of nightly banquets better than colleagues far his junior.

Dr. Schurman in China always has been stalwart in his real Americanism. He is a descendant of the old Dutch families of New York. His pet aversion in Peking has been the Russian Bolshevik ambassador, Leon Karakhan. The two have loved each other like a couple of strange bull-dogs. Karakhan has never lost an opportunity, spoken or written, to rap the American government for its attitude toward the bolshevik government. Dr. Schurman has replied in kind.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, March 24.—Easter sunrise services will be held at "Inspiration Point," Benmar Hills. Invitations have been extended to all local churches to participate. The civic organizations of the city will unite in the movement, it is learned, and the Burbank Municipal band will furnish music, together with the Choral club and the church choirs.

It is proposed to erect a cross on "Inspiration Point," large enough to be seen for miles around. The scene of the proposed service will be otherwise decorated in a manner appropriate for such an occasion. It is also proposed to serve a morning lunch as a part of the program.

A resolution has been adopted by the Burbank High school Board of Trustees, expressing willingness to do their full share toward opening Third street between Cypress avenue and the High school premises. An effort was made some time back to open up this street but was abandoned, because of unwillingness of the board at that time to pay its proportionate share of the expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. List have returned to their home in Eaton, Illinois, after spending the winter in Burbank. They are relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Short. They expect to return to this city next winter.

Mrs. E. I. Gray of East Orange, N. J., who is visiting in San Francisco, is expected here shortly and will be entertained by Miss Ina Evershed of 425 Cypress avenue.

Mrs. Glen Farren of 245 San Fernando boulevard left Sunday for her former home in Ottawa, Kansas. She will visit with relatives. Mr. Farren plans to join her later and they will make their home in Kansas.

J. L. Norwood has left for Shreveport, Louisiana, where he was called by the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Andy Anderson.
